VOL. XXVIII---NO. 91. FRIDAY, APRIL 6, 1888. PRICE TWO CENTS

White Goods OPENING.

As a result of recent very extensive purchases we are now showing an unusually large and attractive stock of

New White Goods,

Containing some of the best bargains it was ever our pleasure to offer. Prices rule somewhat lower than last season, while the standard of quality and beauty of design show a decided advancement.

GEORGE

Jake Sharp Dead.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Jacob Sharp died at 9:20 o'clock last night. About 6 o'clock he was seized with a coughing spell and though it subsided somewhat, rallied but lay in a state of coma, dying about 9:20 without having recovered consciousness. The members of his family were at his bedside. His death was a result of a complication of heart disease, affection of the kidneys, bronchitis, and a worry over the legal troubles which hung over him. It was understood that he was soon to be tried the second time on the charge of bribery of members of the board of aldermen of 1884, to grant him a charter for the street railway in lower Broadway.

Run Down and Killed.

ELKHART, April 6.—J. H. Davis, a well-known citizen of Goshen, Ind., was instantly killed here yesterday afternoon by being run over while walking on the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern track. He was struck by a car that had been thrown off from the train while being switched. As it ran very noiselessly, he did not hear its approach. He was badly mangled.

Blaine's Health.

PITTSBURG, April 6.—Mr. James W. Drape, of this city, is in receipt of a letter from a prominent citizen of Pittsburg, now in Vienna, a wide awake politician, in which this passage occurs: "I saw Mr. Blaine quite often at Florence. It is evident that he is greatly broken in health. He looks every day of seventy years and yet he is only fifty-eight."

Death in a Well.

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, April 6.—A day or two ago a son of Frank Dent died suddenly under circumstances which indicated arsenical poisoning. Yesterday two more of Dent's children died, and it has been discovered that they were poisoned by drinking water from an old well into which rats, poisoned with arsenic, had been thrown.

Logan Arrested.

CLEVELAND, April 6.—John A. Logan, son of the late senator, who shot a riotous Italian at the Carbon, Pa., limestone quarry, of which he was superintendent, on last Tuesday, was arrested and taken before a magistrate at New Castle, Pa. He gave bail for his appearance.

Big Failure in Detroit.

DETROIT, April 7.—Root, Strong & Co., wholesale dry goods merchants, at 234 Jefferson avenue, assigned yesterday. Liabilities unknown; assets, it is thought, about $700,000.

They Won't Prosecute.

CLEVELAND, April 6—Treasurer Dickson, of Marion county, Ohio, who was recently arrested for embezzlement, but not prosecuted, has resigned his office.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 6—Indiana, fair weather, cooler Saturday morning, followed by rising temperature.

Notice to Tax Payers.

I will be in my office every night from 7 o'clock until 8:30 o'clock, from Monday the 19th March to April 16th.

H. C. BERGHOFF,
17tf City Treasurer.

Special Notice.

The Livery and Hackmen's Protective association have reduced the price of hacks for funerals and weddings to $2.50. 28-tf

FIRE AT BLUFFTON.

The Little City Suffers a Loss of $1,000 Early This Morning.

Special to The Sentinel.

BLUFFTON, April 6.—Our city was visited by a fire this morning at 2 o'clock. Loss about $6,000; insurance $1,000.

The losses are as follows:

C. C. Dean, saloon building, $1,500.

C. C. Dean, liquor and fixtures, $1,500.

E. C. Aukerman, groceries, $2,000.

James Davis, building, $500.

Mrs. N. Schlessinger, of Fort Wayne, building, $250.

C. Cultwasser, meat shop, $200.

The only insurance was $1,000, carried by E. C. Aukerman.

At the time a strong wind was blowing, but by the use of our city water works, which worked to the fullest expectation of every one, $10,000 was saved. The whole square was covered by frame buildings. but the blaze was confined to Market street, opposite the Central hotel.

MURDER TRIALS.

Two of them Called for Hearing at Huntington.

Special to the Sentinel.

HUNTINGTON, Ind., April 6.—Charles Pfeifer pleadedjnot guilty to the charge of murdering Mr. Morse, in the Silver Moon saloon, and the trial was set for next Tuesday.

In the case of Jacob Kahlenbeck, also charged with murdering a peddler, he pleaded not guilty, and his trial was set to come up after the Pfeifer case is disposed of. There will be eighty-seven witnesses in the case, eighty-three of them having been found by the sheriff.

ARGUING BLINKY'S CASE

The Court Reserves Its Decision Until Due Deliberation is Made.

RAVENNA, Ohio, April 6.—E. G. Johnson, of Elyria, on behalf of the defense, closed the arguments in the hearing of a motion for a new trial in Blinky Morgan's case before the circuit court, and the Robinson case was taken up immediately afterward, the arguments being opened by W. S. Anderson, of Youngstown, on behalf of Robinson, followed by J. T. Siddall and E. W. Maxon on the part of the state, and closed by Thos. Marshall, of Pittsburg.

Almost the same grounds were set forth by the defense as in Morgan's case. They claimed error on the part of the court in admitting the fur robbery testimony on the grounds that the state had no right to prove another crime foreign to the mur der testimony; that the court erred in allowing the state to cross-examine their witnesses in the manner they did as regards their character; further, that the verdict was not sustainek by the evidence. The decision is looked for to-day. A new trial is probable.

GOLDEN CALIFORNIA.

New and Rich Gold Discoveries Are Made on the Pacific Coast.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 6—The reports of rich gold discoveries in lower California have created much excitement in this city and prospecting parties have been fitted out and gone to the scene. The San Diego Union has ascertained the fact that a number of experts have been in the lower California gold fields and have brought back to their employers reports of rich discoveries.

The Hatfield Prisoners.

LOUISVILLE, April 6—Judge Jackson, in the United States court this morning, affirmed the decision of the lower court in the West Virginia habeas corpus case against the state of Kentucky for the possession of the Hatfield prisoners.

OUR LAW MAKERS.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The senate took up the bond purchase bill late yesterday afternoon. Mr. McPherson withdrew the amendment which he offered, and then, without a word of discussion, the substitute, with the Beck amendment, was passed and a committee of conference ordered.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The committee of conference on the bond bill is Messrs. Sherman, Allison and Beck. The following is the text of the bill as passed: That section 2 of the act making appropriations for sundry civil expenses of the government for the year ending June 30, 1882, and for other purposes, which is as follows: "That the secretary of the treasury may at any time apply surplus money in the treasury, not otherwise appropriated, or so much thereof as he may consider proper, to the purchase or redemption of United States bonds, provided the bonds so purchased or redeemed shall constitute no part of the sinking fund, but shall be cancelled," was intended to be a permanent provision of the law and the same is hereby declared to have been since its enactment and to be in full force and effect now.

Section 2.—That whenever the circulation or any part thereof, of any National bank not in liquidation shall be surrendered by the deposit of United States notes in the treasury or otherwise, and the same or an equivalent amount not taken by other National banks, within thirty days thereafter, the secretary of the treasury is hereby authorized to purchase at the market price thereof an equivalent amount in silver bullion in excess of the minimum of $2,000,000 worth per month for coinage purposes, which shall be coined and used as provided in the act passed February 28, 1878, and entitled: An act authorizing the coinage of the standard silver dollar and to restore its legal tender character, provided. that nothing in this act shall alter or repeal said act of February 28, 1878.

The house entered upon the fourth day of its contest over the direct tax bill, the legislative day of Wednesday still continuing. No progress toward an agreement was made.

The situation in the house remains unchanged. The present prospects of breaking the deadlock is not very good. It is threatened that the house will be kept in a continuous session, without recesses being taken, until the question is settled, either by compromise or by one party unconditionally surrendering its position.

The president today approved the act granting a pension to Mary S. Logan, the widow of General Logan, and an act to increase the pension of Mrs. Appoline A. Blair.

Senator Danells to-day introduced a bill to repeal section 1,218 of the revised statutes, which provided that "no person who has served in any capacity in the military, naval or civil service of the so-called confederate states, or of either of the states in the insurrection during the late rebellion, shall be appointed to any position in the army of the United States."

The president sent the following nominations to the senate to-day: Brigadier General George Crook, to be major general, Col. John R. Brooks, of the third infantry to be brigadier general.

The president has signed the Buffalo postoffice site bill.

BY PRAYER AND FAITH.

A Woman Cured After Having Been Bedridden for Seven Years.

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., April 6.—Mrs. Stephen Cassiday, a lady living in this city, has been confined to her bed for seven years, and for several weeks she has been so ill as to give cause for grave fears as to her life being prolonged to any great extent.

One evening, recently, as a church bell was pealing out, calling the devout to worship, Mrs. Cassiday had a presentment that her son Will, a young man, was about to arrive home. When she heard the latch of the front gate raised, she says she heard these words: "Mrs. Cassiday, arise and walk," and she arose from her bed for the first time in seven years. She met her son at the front door and embraced him, exclaiming: "I never felt better in my life; I am restored."

Mrs. Cassiday has long believed that she would ultimately be restored to her former health, and her prayers have been constantly petitioning for that favor during the years of her illness and it seems that now they have been answered.

Scores of people are daily visiting the house of the healed woman, and they unite in pronouncing it wonderful indeed.

SIX MEN BADLY BURNED.

Employes Accidentally Thrown Into a Pit of Molten Iron.

NEW YORK, April 6.—A cataract of molten iron overwhelmed a gang of workmen in the Delamater iron works, yesterday. Six men, alight from head to foot, were plucked out of the fiery pit into which the metal was poured. All were terribly injured, some so seriously that their chances of recovery hang on a thread.

A BAD TORNADO

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, April 6.—During a violent electric storm yesterday a tornado passed over this city from the southwest to northeast. It struck but in one place, in the extreme northwest part of the city, and then rebounded in the air, passing rapidly over the western suburbs. At the place where the cloud struck it blew up the residence of Mark Modlin, and hurled it to the ground in the rear of the lot.

Mrs. Modlin was severely injured. The house of Mr. Richmond was wrecked and a barn near by was split to kindling wood.

At Silvery the tornado swept over the country, doing immense damage to property.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 6.—A dispatch from St. Paul, Minn., says: Telegrams from a dozen points in Dakota report heavy rains and raging rivers. The river bank at Washburn is full and still rising, and the cotton lands below are flooded for miles.

CENTREVILLE, Mich., April 6—During the storm yesterday James Parson's barn, in Sherman township, was struck by lightning and totally destroyed. Mr. Parsons, his little child and Mrs. Yankee were instantly killed at the same time.

DELPHI, Ind., April 6.—A terrific wind and rain storm passed over this place late yesterday afternoon. At Sleeths, five miles north, it partook of the nature of a cyclone. Several houses were blown down and a freight train on the Monon line was lifted from the track. No one was injured as far as reported.

IN WOMAN'S HANDS.

The Town of Oskaloosa, Kansas, Places Its Destinies in the Keeping of Female Officials.

OSKALOOSA, Kan., April 6.—The good ladies of this city, who consented to take the reins of city government into their hands and try to improve upon the ways of their lords and masters, have leaped suddenly and unexpectedly into fame. Mary D. Lowman is the wife of the register of deeds and is the mother of two children, and is at present the efficient assistant in the office of the register of deeds.

Hannah A. Moore is the wife of one of the city's most prominent attorneys. Sarah E. Balsley is the wife of Dr. J. W. Balsley, a leading physician. Mrs. Carrie Johnson's husband is cashier in the Oskaloosa bank. Mrs. Mittie Golden is the wife of an expert mechanic and the mother of two bright little girls.

The four first-named are handsome, matronly ladies of middle age or past, and the last two are younger in years and girlish in form and feature. They are all highly intelligent and universally esteemed ladies, and have the confidence of the community in their ability to successfully manage the city's affairs. They were given a serenade by the band after the vote was counted showing their overwhelming victory, and there is a general disposition to show them every encouragement.

DROWNED.

Father and Son Drowned While Crossing a River.

PORT HURON, April 6.—Last night Mr. Mathison and his sixteen-year old son, of Oil Springs, Ont., started to cross the river here to Sarnia in a row boat. When about half way across, a sudden squall drove the boat against a cake of ice and the craft capsized. They were drowned.

A Warsaw Enterprise.

Special to the Sentinel.

WARSAW, April 6.—The Warsaw Light, Fuel and Power company was incorporated yesterday. It has a capital of $20,000, and the directors are J. B. Kutz, J. F. Beyer, J. E. Beyer and Irvin B. Webber.

Economic Governmental Stroke.

ERIE, Penn., April 6.—Orders from the treasury department have greatly reduced the expenses of collecting the customs at this port. The salary of the deputy collector has been reduced from $1,600 to $1,200. The force of customs inspectors was also reduced from three to one the year around.

A Fort Wayne Passenger Train Stoned.

LIMA, O., April 6.—A passenger train, Thursday night, on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago road, was stoned and fired at by a mob of unknown persons some distance west of this city.

There were several cars containing men from the Reading road, en route to Chicago, and it is thought the assault was intended for them. Several were injured, but none seriously. A bullet narrowly missed Conductor Gray's head.

Sent to Prison.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Recorder Smyth to-day sentenced Francis W. Pittman to imprisonment for life in the state prison. He was tried for the murder of his daughter, Rachel, and was convicted last night of murder in the second degree.

THE SHOE MAKERS.

CINCINNATI, April 6.—Eleven of the leading shoe manufacturing firms here, have issued a circular declaring their shops free, and that they will keep them so, making no discrimination on account of any one who is a member of the Knights of Labor, but that they will protect all their employes against intimidation.

They say that, until it is proved that labor assemblies will respect the laws of their own order and any agreement they may have entered into, and until their authorities are able to enforce promptly such agreements, it is useless and unbusiness-like to enter into any stipulated agreement with labor organizations.

NO TROUBLE EXPECTED.

The Troubles Between the American and Moorish Governments Will Be Settled Peacefully.

LONDON, April 6.—A dispatch from Tangiers says everything remains quiet generally and a satisfactory settlement of the differences between the American and Moorish governments will be effected.

BISMARCK TO RETIRE.

BERLIN, April 6.—The Cologne Gazette publishes the following: "Great excitement prevails in diplomatic circles in Berlin over the possibility of the speedy resignation of Prince Bismarck because of the proposed marriage of Prince Alexander of Battenberg and Princess Victoria of Prussia. Prince Alexander wishes to accompany Queen Victoria to Berlin as a suitor for the hand of the princess. The bearing of the reports is so serious that they can not be passed over."

Explosion of Dynamite.

VALPARAISO, Ind., April 6.—Four men were killed by a dynamite explosion, this morning, at Miller's Station. The shock shook the buildings in Valparaiso.

A Victim of Misrepresentation.

Special to The Sentinel.

LAPORTE, Ind., April 6.—W. C. B. Harrison, of Hicksville, O., who recently bought the Daily Public Spirit, came here to take possession, but says he was the victim of misrepresentation. He found the office plastered with encumbrances and refused to have anything to do with it. He will start another daily paper here shortly.

Hydrophobia From a Cat Bite.

Special to The Sentinel.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., April 6.—Mrs. Smith, an aged and respected German lady, was bitten by a vicious cat recently. On the ninth day Mrs. Smith began to develop strong symptoms of hydrophobia. Physicians are now doing all they can do to relieve her sufferings. The worst results are feared.

Mrs. Hugh McCulloch's Reception.

The Washington telegrams say: "Mrs. McCulloch and Miss Mary McCulloch, wife and daughter of ex-Secretary McCulloch, had a charming reception yesterday afternoon. They were assisted by Mrs. McCulloch's niece, Mrs. Talbott, of Lafayette, who arrived a few days ago. Mrs. McCulloch wore a dolly varden dress of pale flowered silk and a cap that was made for her golden wedding breakfast anniversary. Miss McCulloch, in a Greek dress of white cloth, served tea in a second drawing-room that was lighted by a pink-shaded fairy lamp.

Henry Miller's Money.

The Monroeville Breeze says:

This morning as Henry Miller returned home from Fort Wayne, he informed us that as he was walking along Calhoun street in that city, he was struck upon the head with a brick which felled him to the stone pavement and in an instant two men were upon his back and robbed him of $305 and made well their escape before he could regain consciousness. Miller went to the city yesterday intending to return in the evening but missed the train. The money taken belonged to W. H. Smith.

An Alleged Murderer Held.

John Patterson is the name given by the man arrested by Officer Limecooley on suspicion that he was one of the murderers of the night watchman on the Chicago and Alton road, at Chicago.

The fellow could not give an account of himself, so the mayor sent him to jail on a charge of vagrancy.

Telegrams are passing back and forth about the prisoner, and some of the officers feel that he does not answer the description.

Endorsed the Ticket.

NEW ORLEANS, April 6.—The republicans of New Orleans to-day endorsed the city ticket nominated by the Young Men's Democratic association.

Conkling Very Ill.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Ex-Senator Roscoe Conkling is seriously ill with an abscess in his ear.

DIED AT HIS POST.

A Fireman Killed and An Engineer Seriously Injured by a Railroad Accident.

ELMIRA, N. Y., April 6.—An engine of a passenger train on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railway went off the track fifty-five miles east of Buffalo about midnight. Fireman Hoyt Bogart, of Elmira, was killed and Engineer Thompson, of Elmira, badly hurt. The cars did not leave the track and no passengers were injured. It was caused by a washout of a culvert.

THE LUTHERANS.

The Conference in This City Closes—The Synod of the Church, at Evansville, in July.

The conference of the Lutheran ministers and teachers for the Fort Wayne district, which has been in session at the Emanuel's Lutheran church, for the last few days, adjourned last evening and most of those attending it have left for their homes. The session was an interesting and important one, and many matters pertaining to the interests of the denomination were discussed and decided.

There were over 150 delegates in attendance. They were the guests, during the session, of the families of the Lutheran congregations in the city. The visiting members speak highly of the manner in which they were entertained and will carry with them many pleasant recollections of their 1888 session.

Rev. Jox, of Logansport, presided over the body and at the last evening session, Rev. Berg, of Adams county, preached an able and eloquent sermon, which was followed by profitable communion services. The next meeting of the conference will be held at Evansville some time in October.

The annual synod of the Lutheran church for Ohio and Indiana will meet at Evansville next July. It will be an important gathering of the church and will be attended by all the Lutheran ministers of this city with one or two lay delegates from each congregation.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Wm. H. Thompson was to-day appointed guardian of Henry Neireiter.

The gas well on the Peltier farm has developed a mineral spring. No gas

Judge O'Rourke struck eight old cases off the circuit court docket to-day.

A warrant is out for the arrest of one Grier, who got drunk to-day and abused his family.

The jury in the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad damage case retired to find a verdict this afternoon.

Mr. Wm. Meyer, the hatter, says that $500 has been subscribed towards a base ball nine. Only $500 more is needed.

A. F. Wheeler, Lima: James K. Cullen, Chicago, and W. M. Johnson, Pittsburg, are among the guests of the Wayne.

J. A. Soloman, advance agent of "Only a Farmer's daughter," and John K. Brice, of Lima, are guests of the Aveline.

Workmen are tearing the roof off of the Spy Run avenue bridge preparatory to the removal of the structure, to give place to a new one.

The storm did slight damage all around the city last night. Mr. Will Schiefer says it blew up a sidewalk on Spy Run avenue.

John A. Zelt and Wilhelmina Rodenbeck, John Wappes and Ida Smith, John Landin and Fannie Roy, Cornelius Graney and Ellen A'Hern have been licensed to wed.

The LaGrange Democrat says: "Hon. R. C. Bell, of Fort Wayne, who will probably be the next candidate for congress in this district, visited LaGrange on Wednesday and spent a few pleasant hours with his friends. He was accompanied by County Clerk Loag and Attorney Oppenheim."

The popular blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla, is having a tremendous sale this season. Nearly everybody takes it. Try it yourself.

Wrong

To imagine that the treatment of Constipation consists merely in unloading the bowels. The medicine must not only act as a purgative, but be a tonic as well, and not produce after its use greater costiveness. This is what Simmons Liver Regulator always does.

"As a general family remedy for Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels."—W. J. McELROY, Macon, Ga.

Believe us, when we tell you that most of the despondent feeling (the blues) is the effect of a Torpid Liver, Indigestion, Weakness of Stomach, and Nervousness. A dose of Simmons Liver Regulator invariably relieves, cures and prevents a re-occurrence.

"I find Simmons Liver Regulator, very safe, harmless and valuable as a family medicine, and have used it for any disorder of the system and have found it to act like a charm, and I believe that if it was used in time, it would prove a great preventive of sickness. I have often recommended it to my friends, and shall continue to do so."—Rev. JAMES. M. ROLLINS, Fairfield, Va.

Simmons Liver Regulator is given with safety and with the happiest results, in almost any ailment, to the most delicate infant as well as to the adult. For all diseases in which a laxative, alterative, or purgative is needed, it will give the most perfect satisfaction. It is the cheapest, purest and best Family Medicine in the world.

FRIDAY, APRIL 6, 1888.

CHEAP gas and cheap water we must and will have.

JUDGE GRESHAM is a mugwump and a free trader, so says the Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette.

KENDALLVILLE went democratic last Monday. The old strongholds are wheeling into line for November grandly.

HON. BENJ. S. PARKER, of New Castle, is engaged on a new work, to be called "The Poets and Poetry of Indiana."

THE Dekalb county democrats elected nine out of thirteen trustees last Monday. Wells county elected seven out of nine trustees.

THE township election figures from the state show that the democrats carried Indiana on a popular vote by from 7,000 to 10,000 majority.

MR. P. L. RECKER, of North Manchester, is the prohibition nominee for congress in the adjoining Eleventh district. Mr. Recker was formerly a republican.

THE minority republican report on the Mills tariff bill is a commonplace campaign document and it surprises us that such an ordinary paper should emanate from such an extraordinary source.

IF the citizens of Fort Wayne—those who are compelled to pay exorbitant prices for illuminating gas—would counsel together and organize a stock company of their own, it is possible we could get gas at almost the cost of its manufacture.

The Indiantan, the republican organ of Kosciusko county, instructs its correspondents not to report prohibition meetings, or any matters connected with that party. The republicans are evidently determined to crush out this commendable struggle for sobriety and wholesome temperance reforms, but they cannot do it.

THE election for ten councilmen and a member of the board of water works trustees occurs on the first Tuesday in May. The city council can order the polls open at 6 o'clock in the morning, to accommodate the working classes, if it chooses to do so. It would not be a bad idea, because when the polls open at 7 o'clock and close at 6 o'clock a great many shop employes are denied an opportunity to vote.

THE Gazette copies an item from the Dispatch asserting that THE SENTINEL and Journal opposed Mr. Hilbrecht for trustee because of his foreign birth. As far as the statement applies to THE SENTINEL it is maliciously false. This paper, all through the brief campaign, argued in unmistakable terms against the introduction of race and creed prejudices into politics. Our columns are open to inspection, for we abhor such influences in any pary as much as we do the people who falsely ascribe such motives to us.

THE Indianapolis Sentinel has forced Judge Woods and District Attorney Sellers to call for trial the case of General Carnahan, the chairman of the Marion county republican committee. It will be seen that the Sentinel is instilling a commendable spirit of activity and honesty into federal affairs, since republicans are to be tried for election frauds and illegal practices, just as Coy and Bernhamer were. Let us pause and see whether the prosecution will be as vigorous—whether Judge Woods will yearn for conviction as he did in the case of the erring democrats.

MRS. SUE DYER, of Dexter, Me., for several years was troubled with sensations in her stomach, and sometimes in her throat. She became convinced that she had some sort of a living creature in her stomach, and induced a physician to give her medicine to destroy it. A local newspaper says that after she took the medicine the movements of the creature became so violent that they threw her into convulsions that lasted several hours. A few days afterward she was relieved of a snake twenty-one inches long. It is feared that Mrs. Dyer will not recover

AN Englishman, John Powell, recently had remarkable success at tiger shooting in India. A buffalo had been killed by a tiger and he had a "machan" tied up near it. In this he posted himself. Shortly out stalked a fine full-grown tiger from the adjoining jungle, and commenced to devour the dead buffalo. He fired a shot which hit it in the shoulder and rolled it over dead. He had scarcely reloaded the discharged barrel when out came another. At this he fired four shots before he gave it its quietus. This animal had hardly given up moving its body in its final death-throes when an enormous tigress put in an appearance. One well-aimed shot struck her close to the eye and rolled her over dead.

"WHO FOR CONGRESS?"

The Kendallville News Wants a Man Who Can Carry Allen County As of Old.

The Kendallville News, Dr. A. S. Parker's paper, has this very sensible congressional gossip:

Who for congress? begins to become a question of some importance to the democratic voters of this district. This question will have to be settled by them within two or three months. There seems to be a disposition on the part of all democrats, so far as we can see, to throw aside all differences and abandon all prejudice that was engendered in the campaign of 1886, and nominate a good man and elect him. This feeling should be encouraged, and the man nominated should receive the party vote. With the party a unit for the candidate, then it will be in a position to become aggressive and extend its influence. Three candidates so far have come to the front and desire the nomination; two from Allen county, Robert C. Bell and P. S. O'Rourke, and one from Whitley, Wm. F. McNagny. There will probably be other candidates before the convention, but to us the important question is, who can carry the democratic vote of Allen county? Who can roll up the old time majority of that county? This question, to some extent must be settled by the Allen county democracy, and if it is R. C. Bell, all right; if it is P. S. O'Rourke, or any other man, all right.

NEW OFFICERS

Yesterday, at Richmond, occurred the annual meeting of the stock-holders of the Cincinnati, Richmond and Fort Wayne road, which is the southern terminus of the Grand Rapids line and with it is operated from Fort Wayne by the Pennsylvania company.

The officers chosen are as follows:

Directors—Wm. Parry, Asahel Stone, Thomas Messler, John F. Miller, John H. Moorman, David Studabaker, Jacob N. McCullough, F. H. Short, Wm. O. Hughart, Wm. R. Shelby, Wm. Thaw.

The directors met and organized their board by the election of the following officers:

Wm. Parry, president.

W. O. Hughart, vice-president.

J. H. P. Hughart, secretary and treasurer.

Judge McClellan Named for Congress.

[Angola Herald]

The democracy of DeKalb county will present and unanimously support Judge Charles A. O. McClellan as their candidate for congress, subject to the choice of the democratic convention of the Twelfth congressial district. The judge who was not conspicuous in the fight of two years ago, would undoubtedly be acceptable to all factions and if nominated would unite these elements in his own county and district, and if elected would make an able and efficient representative in Congress.

A Drive at Chairman Wilson.

Steuben Republican.

In the coming republican national convention it is pretty well claimed here that the delegates from this district should go to Lagrange and Whitley counties. Allen had the chairman in 1880, delegate in 1884, and congressman in 1886; Whitley, none; Lagrange, none; Noble, delegate in 1880 and chairman in 1888; DeKalb, delegate in 1880, chairman in 1884. Though in 1880 Whitley had a delegate-at-large, Judge Calkins. Fair play is a jewel, so pass around the honors.

Falsehoods Against Prohibitionists.

[Bluffton Bugle.]

The Indianapolis Journal lately started the story that "the chairman of the prohibition state central committee accepted a nomination to preside at a republican convention." This has been hailed with acclaim and republished by all lesser papers of that faith, including the Fort Wayne Gazette and Bluffton Chronicle.

Then follow personal letters denying the assertions of the republican organs.

A Case in Point.

Cleveland Universe.

In connection with Judge Elliott's decision in the cemetery case, "John Geary vs. the Rt. Rev. Joseph Dwenger, D. D., Bishop of Fort Wayne," it is interesting to notice a recent judgment which we find in current European exchanges, where the "court of justice of Guestrow, a city of Mecklenburg," has just fined the burgomaster for forcing a Lutheran parson to bury two suicides in the Lutheran cemetery.

Bunyan's First Defrat.

The Kendallville News remarks:

State Central Committeeman William Bunyan, received his first defeat for 1888 at the election last Monday. It is the beginning of a campaign that will end in giving Grover Cleveland and the whole democratic ticket a majority in Wayne township next November.

Hon. Charles McCulloch for National Delegate.

[Kendallville News.]

The Fort Wayne SENTINEL presents the name of Hon. Charles McCulloch, of that city, as a delegate to the National convention at St. Louis, and thinks his selection would be a just tribute to Mr. McCulloch, and would voice the sentiment of the democrats of that county.

Advice to Mothers.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. The Plea of the Postal Clerks.

The bill which Congressman S. S. Cox introduced in the house to increase the salaries of the United States postal clerks is meeting with general favor, and such a strong showing has been made in behalf of the clerks that it is more than probable that the bill will pass.

It is to be hoped that it will, for of all the government employes none are poorer paid in comparison with the responsibilities which they are called upon to bear than the postal clerks, whose salaries now range from $800 to $1,300 per annum. The position which a postal clerk holds is a most responsible one, and only thorough, competent and well equipped men are capable of performing the duties of the office as is necessary to give the public an accurate and efficient mail service. Every piece of mail matter handled in the United States, except those which are distributed in the cities in which they are mailed, goes through the hands of the postal clerks, of which there were, at the close of the fiscal year of 1885, 4,512 in the whole country. These clerks handled 4,964,673,577 pieces during that year, and this mail was carried over 121,032 miles of road. This was nearly three years ago, and there has been a very great increase since then in the work which these clerks are called upon to perform. The average annual run for each clerk was 40,167 miles, or an average of 110 miles for every day in the year. For this the compensation averages only about $1.000 annually, and out of this the clerks are compelled to pay their own expenses.

The postoffice department has frequently recommended to congress an increase in these salaries, but a combination of circumstances has prevented the increase being made before this. The inadequacy of this compensation has been very strongly impressed on the present congress, and from all parts of the country the postal clerks have brought strongest indorsements of the justice of their request for an increase.

Of all public servants there are none brought more directly in contact with the public than the postal clerks, and on the faithful performance of their work business and society depends largely for the methods which guarantee reliable intercourse. Day after day they are engaged in work which carries them from one place to another, subjected to inconveniences and discomforts which are borne by but few others in the service of the government, and yet they are the poorest paid and the hardest worked class of its employes.

These men have proven themselves worthy of public confidence, and it is an extremely rare thing that any in this department of the government's mail service are found guilty of improper use of the mails. Nearly a thousand persons were tried in the United States courts last year for offenses against the mails, and of that number only eight were postal clerks. Millions and millions of dollars pass through their hands annually, and the honesty and competency of their work is attested in the fact that of the complaints against the mail service, fewer are made against them than any others who handle the mails, and yet the great bulk of the work passes through the hands of the railway postal clerks.—Atlanta Constitution.

Among the Arizona Indians.

While the Apache Indians of Arizona are probably today the most dangerous of the nation's wards who still indulge in periodical outbreaks of active hostility, their neighbors, the Maricopas, Pimas, Yumas and Mohaves, dwelling on the banks of the Gila and Colorado rivers, set a good example of friendliness and semi-civilization. Their occupations are chiefly agriculture and stock raising. They also manufacture rude pottery similar to that found in the ancient, deserted pueblos of the Gila valley and the Colorado plateau. South of the Gila, the greater portion of the country, outside of the fertile bottom lands, is a sterile desert, where the mesquite tree and the cactus alone flourish, and the only living creatures are vultures, jackals, rattlesnakes, centipedes and a venomous lizard. It was only in 1853 that this section south of the Gila was acquired by the United States from Mexico; and reminiscences of many customs and superstitions, probably of Aztec origin, are common to most of the tribes of this part of the country.—Frank Leslie's.

Honesty the Best Policy.

Irate Customer—See here, Mr. De Ribbon, that expensive piece of dress goods you sold me fades.

Honest Dealer—Yes, madam, I was sure it would. I seldom make a mistake about anything I have in stock.

"Sure it would fade? Oh, you—you—why didn't you tell me so instead of taking my money and letting me pay out $20 to have a dress made out of material that made me look like a zebra the first time I got caught in the rain, say?"

"My dear madam, you didn't tell me you wanted the stuff for a dress. I supposed you'd taken a contract to color easter eggs for a church festival or something."—Omaha World.

Mr. Gallagher.

When the Niagara street car slackened up at Carolina to let a young man off, the passengers heard his parting remark to the conductor, "Let 'er go Gallagher." The conductor pulled the strap and the car sped on its way. After a journey to the front platform to collect a fare the conductor felt the old lady passenger's hand on his arm. "What is it?" he asked, and the passengers listened as passengers will. "Please let me out at Maryland street, Mr. Gallagher," said the old lady sweetly, and the passengers roared.—Buffalo (N. Y.) The treatment of many thousands of cases of those chronic weaknesses and distressing ailments peculiar to females, at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has afforded a vast experience in nicely adapting and thoroughly testing remedies for the cure of woman's peculiar maladies.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the outgrowth, or result, of this great and valuable experience. Thousands of testimonials, received from patients and from physicians who have tested it in the more aggravated and obstinate cases which had baffled their skill, prove it to be the most wonderful remedy ever devised for the relief and cure of suffering women. It is not recommended as a "cure-all," but as a most perfect Specific for woman's peculiar ailments.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system, and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, exhaustion, prostration, hysteria, spasms and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womb. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a legitimate medicine, carefully compounded by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. It is purely vegetable in its composition and perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system. For morning sickness, or nausea, from whatever cause arising, weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia and kindred symptoms, its use, in small doses, will prove very beneficial.

"Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhea, excessive flowing, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb, inflammation, pain and tenderness in ovaries, accompanied with "internal heat."

As a regulator and promoter of functional action, at that critical period of change from girlhood to womanhood, "Favorite Prescription" is a perfectly safe remedial agent, and can produce only good results. It is equally efficacious and valuable in its effects when taken for those disorders and derangements incident to that later and most critical period, known as "The Change of Life."

"Favorite Prescription," when taken in connection with the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and small laxative doses of Dr. Pierce's Purgative Pellets (Little Liver Pills), cures Liver, Kidney and Bladder diseases. Their combined use also removes blood taints, and abolishes cancerous and scrofulous humors from the system.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee, from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

Large bottles (100 doses) $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

A CHAPTER ON TRAMPS.

BY BOB BURDETTE.

Tramps, after all, are very much like dramps. There is a certain bond that ties us all together. True, he will not work, and when we are asked to take of our own flock and of our own herd to dress for the wayfaring man that has come unto us, we say with the apostle: "That if any would not work neither should he eat." And yet I do not blame him very sorely for not desiring to work. I do not work because I love to toil, and labor, and perspire, and ink my thumb. I work because I have to. I work because the ground was cursed for my family's sake, so that thorns and thistles grew up with the papyrus plant, and ink and tears came in together; and as my great grandfather, since deceased, was a tramp, and went out of Eden to sleep under the trees and eat his bread in the sweat of his face, even so have the rest of the family been "strangers and sojurners, as were all our fathers; our days on the earth are as a shadow, for here have we no continuing city, but we seek one to come." As "one star differeth from another in glory," dearly beloved, and as "all flesh is not the same flesh," so one tramp is not as all other tramps.

Sometimes the tramp singeth, and if she be a woman tramp, so long as thy pocket-book lasteth she will not open her mouth save for $1,000 a night, carriage, and a wagon-load of bouquets. Doth she work for that money? Nay, verily; she only worketh the audience for it, even as her sister, setting under the wayside hedge to rest, worketh the cottages along the road for "broken vittles."

I have seen the man tramp come all the way from England, and tramp up and down the iron highways of this land that floweth with fame and money repeating at our charitable doors old lectures that were frayed at the edges before ever they left the shores of Britain, talking at the rate of $2 a minute. Call ye that "work," ye that lift up the hands against the unshaven tramp who seeketh only to talk you out of a cold breakfast? Verily, my kind friends, I have tramped on the lecture lay myself, and I know whereof I affirm, that is not "work;" it is fun. Anybody can do it.

Yes, I have known tramps who wandered about this land from Hoboken, N. J., to Tombstone, Arizonia, seeking for an easy pulpit in a rich church, with an assistant pastor to do all the work.

Had I listened to the noise of tramps who wandered up and down for meat, crying in the ears of the people, "Oh, that I had in the wilderness, which is called congress, a lodging-place for wayfaring men, that I might rest from my labor all the days of my life, and wax fat and kick." And when he goeth to congress, and draweth his fat salary, and commandeth his secretary to write him a speech on the tariff bill or the Mormon question, doeth he any "work?" Oh, my dear friends, the country is full of tramps, who have three changes of raiment, like Berry Wall, and fare sumptuously every day; they toil not, neither do they spin, but they rake in the shekels, and flourish as magnificently as a green bay tree. And there be few of us, indeed, who love to work, and who would work 317 days in the year unless we were driven by dire necessity.

Rallying the Enemy.

Battles are not always conducted with that extreme precision which is generally supposed to characterize military maneuvers. Confusion sometimes reigns, especially when the fighting is carried on in thick brush, or continued after dusk. Here, for instance, is an extract from the history of a New York regiment:

Maj. Livingston's horse had been shot, and the Major's hip injured by the fall. He was very anxious to change the retreat into an advance, and thus on foot, swinging his sword, he ordered everybody to "Right about face!" But his orders were unheeded.

At last, coming up to a regiment marching in tolerable order in the same direction with the general current, and concluding that they were sufficiently strong at least to cover the retreat of the wounded and exhausted, he ordered them to halt and face to the front, giving emphasis to the command by earnest gesticulations with his sword and insisting that it was a shame to see a whole regiment running away. At this juncture an officer demanded:

"Who are you, sir?"

"Maj. Livingston of the 76th."

"Seventy-sixth what?" asked the stranger.

"Seventy-sixth New York," replied the Major.

"Well, then, you are my prisoner, for you are attempting to rally the 2d Mississippi."

THE BRITISH HOUSE OF LORDS.

Reformation Required in the Great Legislative Body.

[Youth's Companion.]

A few weeks ago a young English peer of high rank was caught cheating in a horse race and was expelled from the race tracks controlled by the Jockey Club. He had entered a horse in a race, and in order, dishonestly, to make money, had directed his jockey not to let his horse win.

This disgraceful incident, happening to a man who, by right of birth, has the power to aid in making of English laws, has called general attention to the defects of the upper branch of Parliament—the House of Lords.

It is not, indeed, the only incident which has taken place in recent years involving a peer in personal disgrace. At the present time a peer is hiding on the continent, so as to be out of the reach of law. Instances of peers being made bankrupts have not been rare in recent years, and cases of hopeless moral depravity, on the part of noblemen, have again been made public.

In a body comprising between five and six hundred men, however, most of whom have been reared in, and are peculiarly subject to, the temptations of great wealth and luxury, it is perhaps not surprising that some should go wrong, that there should be extravagance, dissoluteness, and dishonesty on the part of weak peers.

But the House of Lords also contains a large number of able, useful and upright men. Its bench of twenty-six bishops presents many examples of intellectual talent and personal lives. The House not long ago was found to contain twenty-one peers who had served England as diplomats abroad; six who had governed large colonies; two ex-Speakers of the Lower House, two ex-Lord Chancellors, two field marshals, eight able judges, forty generals, admirals, and ex-ministers, and twenty-four who were or had been members of the Cabinet.

In political eloquence, the hereditary chamber need not fear comparison with the popularly elected Lower House. The Duke of Argyll, the Marquis of Salisbury, the Earls of Roseberry, Granville and Carnarvon are debaters who are not excelled by more than two or three of the greatest speakers in the Commons.

Many of the peers, moreover, have served in the Commons, and have either succeeded to titles empowering them to sit in the Lords, or have been created peers on account of ability or party services. Manufacturers, bankers, brewers, and other business men have been raised to seats in the Upper House; though as yet science and medicine are unrepresented in it, and the only literary man who has been made a peer solely by reason of his literary achievements is Lord Tennyson.

It is clearly seen in England, however, that the House of Lords is not thoroughly well fitted to be a powerful and practical legislative body in these days. The idea of a man becoming a legislator for life, merely by right of birth, is seen to be absurd at a period when the masses of people have come rule the empire.

Even Lord Salisbury, a high Tory and very tenacious of the privileges of his order, is in favor of making some changes in its composition. "We belong too much to one class," he says, "and the result is that, with respect to a large number of questions, we are all too much of one mind."

The reform of the House of Lords, indeed, is one of the questions in the near future in English politics, though it is not one of the questions that will probably soon be settled. Clearly as the necessity of reform is perceived there is an immense amount of conservative inertia to be overcome before the movement can be successful.

Among the suggestions that will be considered are the creation of more life peers, in order that more general ability may be secured, and all fields of knowledge and action may be represented. Again it will be proposed that the peers as a whole shall choose a portion of their members to perform the legislative duties of their House as the Scottish and Irish peers now elect a few of their number to represent them in the House.

The new House of Lords, if it should be reformed in either of these ways, would be more in accordance with the spirit of the age than the old, and far better fitted to perform its task in the system of the English government.

The Sporting Young Man.

There is a type of young man grown up in decent society who is nothing if not a sport. The closer he can continue his resemblance to a prize-fighter the greater gentleman he appears to think himself. In Europe this type of gentility is a result of the deterioration of a high-bred race. With us it is the original brute, only slightly gilt. We are luckier than the old world, however, for we will grow out of this sort of thing in time. At present it is pretty rampant among us. A bloody set-to between a couple of Sixth Ward plug-uglies in the rooms of one of these fools of fortune, and a ghasty cock fight at the house of another are among the items of unprinted fashionable news for last week, while on Monday night a third signalized his superior state by baiting cats in the back room of a west-side groggery with his bulldog till the police began hammering at the door. Tom and Jerry might find some congenial amusement in New York these days, in spite of the newness of our civilization.—Town Topics.

Simmons Liver Regulator cures malaria, biliousness, dyspepsia, headache, constipation and piles. It is most effective in starting the secretions of the liver, causing the bile to act as a purge. When than is an excess of bile in the stomach, the Regulator is an active purge; after the removal of the bile it will regulate the bowels and impart vigor and health to the whole system.

Hints to Inventors.

Inventors of marked ability may toil all their lives on some grand problem in medicine or physics, with scarcely enough of this world's goods to keep body and soul together, and die just on the this side of pauperism; while a sharp, shrewd fellow will, in a week, hit on some popular and commonplace thing—a hinge, a knife, a coffe pot, a window shade, a kitchen utensil or farming implement, or even a toy, which just "fills the bill"—something which everybody wanted—and accumulate a very comfortable if not an enormous fortune. All the great prizes in life undoubtedly go to men whose intellectual grasp is gigantic, but the moderate prizes are more frequently laid hold of by those who understand human wants and how to meet them. The man who refuses to consult popular taste, who thinks he knows better what the public wants than the public itself knows, will not succeed in forcing his wares into their hands. He may, and doubtless will think them imbeciles for wanting something else; he will fancy himself superior to their weakness, and refuse to gratify what he regards as bad taste or want of common sense. If he does this from conviction, and because he cannot bring himself to cater to people's trivial but harmless preferences, well and good; but let him not at the same time complain that he is not successful, and that he is a persecuted and unjustly treated martyr. Let him not be disappointed at his ill luck. If a man goes fishing for trout with the wrong kind of bait let him not talk of his bad luck. If he would rather catch trout with lemon peel than to succeed in catching them with the fly, which they like the best, let him stay at home and not grumble at those who come in with a long string of fish as the result of their knowledge and skill in the art.—Boston Exchange.

Death in the Icy Waters.

How cold the dark water of Lake Superior is! One evening when we were steaming across that lake I asked the mate what was done when a man fell overboard. He coolly replied, "Nothing."

"Why?" I asked, astonished at his heartlessness.

"The water of Lake Superior is so cold that a man cannot live in it during the time it takes to stop a rapidly-moving vessel and lower a boat," he replied. Then he added: "I have sailed on this lake for twenty years. During that time I have known many men to fall off vessels. I know of one man only who escaped death. He was saved by a scratch. The others were apparently killed by the shock produced by falling into such cold water." He picked up an empty can to which a long string was attached and cast it overboard. The can skipped from the crest of one wave to that of another for an instant, then dipped and filled. The hoary-headed mate drew the full can up and handed it to me, saying: "Take a drink of that, and then you say what you think of your chances of swimming in Lake Superior for ten or fifteen minutes." I drank deeply, and it was as though liquid ice flowed down my throat.

"It is alleged," the mate said, "that this lake never gives up its dead; that to be drowned in Lake Superior is to be buried for all time. I do not know whether this is true or not, but I do know that I have never seen a corpse floating on the lake." I wonder if that is true? I doubted it, but I could find no sailor who had ever seen a dead body floating on the lake.—New York Times.

Pulp Furniture.

Furniture manufacturers have had their attention directed by enthusiasts to the pulp question. It is argued that pulp can be used as a substitute for lumber in the manufacture of furniture and other articles now made exclusively of wood. By mixing the pulp with clays, steatite, asbestos, plumbago, and mica, substances of every possible and compactness may be produced. It is estimated that only about twenty per cent. of the timber felled reaches economic uses, while if the sawmill were combined with pulping and pressing processes, all the material in trunk might be available.—Iron Trade Review.

To Assist Nature

In restoring diseased or wasted tissue is all that any medicine can do. In pulmonary affections, such as Colds, Bronchitis, and Consumption, the mucous membrane first becomes inflamed, then accumulations form in the air-cells of the lungs, followed by tubercles, and, finally, destruction of the tissue. It is plain, therefore, that, until the hacking cough is relieved, the bronchial tubes can have no opportunity to heal. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

the inflamed membrane, arrests the wasting process, and leaves no injurious results. This is why it is more highly esteemed than any other pulmonary specific.

L. D. Bixby, of Bartonsville, Vt., writes: "Four years ago I took a severe cold, which was followed by a terrible cough. I was very sick, and confined to my bed about four months. My physician finally said I was in consumption, and that he could not help me. One of my neighbors advised me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I did so, and before I had taken half a bottle was able to go out. By the time I had finished the bottle I was well, and have remained so ever since."

Alonzo P. Daggett, of Smyrna Mills, Me., writes: "Six years ago, I was a traveling salesman, and at that time was suffering with

Lung Trouble.

For months I was unable to rest nights. I could seldom lie down, had frequent choking spells, and was often compelled to seek the open air for relief. I was induced to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which helped me. Its continued use has entirely cured me, and, I believe, saved my life."

A leading chemist of New York says: "No plasters of such merit as the Ath-lo-pho-ros Plasters have ever before been produced." They are a novelty because they are not made simply to sell cheap, they are the best that science, skill and money can produce, and will do what is claimed for them. For sprains, aches, weakness, lameness, etc., they are unequaled.

The Trades and Labor council will further consider the early closing question on next Tuesday night. It is found that groceries with saloons attached are largely opposed to early closing, and it will be found necessary to grapple with this question. It is a hard problem to solve and will require some very wise heads.

Broadway grocers are found to be the most obstinate against early closing. A few closed on the first night the agreement went into effect, but, finding the majority of grocerymen were keeping open and were taking away the trade that justly belonged to them, found it necessary for protection to themselves to keep open. The opposition shown by some grocers jeoperdizes the prospects of the clerks.

The Indianapolis Journal says: "The railway department of the Young Men's Christian association at Fort Wayne is one of the most prosperous in the country. The ladies take hold in this association and help out matters wonderfully. They are now engaged in placing a library of 3,000 volumes. Each member of the association is called upon to contribute $2 for a membership, which will entitle him to draw books from this library.

A Chicago photographic firm is sending circulars to business men in this and other cities offering, on receipt of a photograph, of any member of their family, to enlarge the same, place it in a handsome frame with the business advertisements of the photograher and business man and place the same in show windows for display. Mr. T. P. Keator says that any attempt to endorse General Harrison or Colonel Robertson at the republican convention at Auburn, April 19, will create a row and break up the meeting. Mr. Keator himself, is loaded for the occasion.

Rev. J. C. Cook, the new pastor of the Trinity M. E. church, was given a very pleasant reception last evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Brown. Rev. Cook will occupy his pulpit next Sunday and preach both in the morning and evening.

The Pierceton Record says: "It was rumored about town Tuesday morning that Vilas was in town and would leave on the accommodation. Investigation showed that instead of Postmaster General Vilas it was Postmaster Crawford, dressed in a fine new suit and silk hat going to Fort Wayne to see his best widow."

Mr. John R. Wilson, of Indianapolis, was a guest of the Wayne hotel last evening and met quite a number of prominent democrats. Mr. Wilson is a candidate for attorney general on the democratic side and is one of the best men in the race. He is an able lawyer and a distinguished gentleman, having served in the legislature from Marion county with much honor. He is the only man Marion county presents for a democratic nomination.

AN EDITOR ASSAULTED.

Dr. J. M. Shutt, of the Maysville Breeze, Attacked in a Cowardly Way.

Dr. J. M. Shutt, edits a sprightly newspaper, the Breeze, at Maysville, this county, and attends to a good professional practice besides.

In the recent contest for trustee in that township (Springfield), Dr. Shutt espoused the cause of Mr. John Stopher, the democratic nominee, very warmly, and of course paid his respects to the republican candidate, Dr. Clarence F. Swift.

"All is fair in politics and war," argued Dr. Shutt, and he accepted the defeat of his friend, Mr. Stopher, gracefully, expecting to give Dr. Swift due recognition.

Things are not so now, however, for yesterday, while Dr. Shutt was seated in Lawyer Shaffer's office, at Maysville, Dr. Swift approached from behind and in a cowardly manner assaulted the editor of the Breeze.

"He threw his arms about my neck," said Dr. Shutt," and struck while I was helpless. When we got apart friends interfered and, of course, settled the matter for the present."

Dr. Swift at once went before a Maysville peace officer and was fined a nominal sum. This did not satisfy Dr. Shutt for he had his assailant before Justice France to-day and it cost the new trustee $19.

Dr. Shutt's face is bruised and his right eye is blackened from a blow.

MR. A. H. POLHAMUS

Returns From Chicago and Reports Everything Quiet.

Mr. A. H. Polhamus, the road foreman of engineers for the Pennsylvania company, returned last evening from Chicago, where he has been since the commencement of the strike troubles on the Pittsburg last Saturday.

He reports everything quiet in railroad circles at that city and thinks the strike has ended for good. The Burlington is handling their immense business and will undoubtedly be able to take care of their freight traffic.

The report was extensively circulated in this city that Mr. Polhamus had been attacked and roughly beaten by the strikers in Chicago, but this, we are happy to say, was not the case. He did duty as an engineer almost all of the time he was in Chicago, but was not attacked in any way by the strikers, much less beaten, as was reported in this city.

The Building Boom.

J. H. L. Gerke has been given a permit to build a two-story frame dwelling house on lot 430 Hanna's addition, to cost $900.

Frederick Merten to build a one-story frame house on lot 7, Piepebrink's addition, to cost $350.

Ph. Schmidt to build a kitchen on lot 7, Rockhill's addition, to cost $200.

Ernest Nahrwald to build a one-story frame house on lot 2, McCulloch's addition, to cost $500.

ECHOES OF THE RAIL.

A Dull Day for News, But Our Reporter Sends Up Quite a Budget of It.

Passenger business is improving.

A new sidewalk is being built on Hanna street, near the Bass works.

Mr. Henry Paul, the contractor, has a force of men at work at the gravel pits along the Nickel Plate road.

The depots present a lively appearance since the Pittsburg has resumed its immense freight traffic east and west.

A large chimney of the Kerr Murray foundry was blown down by the storm, last evening, and injured the roof of the building.

Supt. C. S. Hilton, of the arc department of the Fort Wayne Jenney Electric Light works, has recovered from a severe indisposition.

Veteran local ticket agents admit that for the last ten days passenger rates have been better maintained than for a like period in the last ten years.

The Grand Rapids and Indiana will erect a new passenger depot at Rome City this summer. Rome City is the best paying passenger point on the road between Fort Wayne and Grand Rapids.

Mr. Will Davis, of the Pittsburg, has been busy during the last few days superintending the moving of cars and freight out of the yards of the Pennsylvania company in this city, which had accumulated during the strike.

There is a quiet, steady work going on in the shops, and while there will not be any great boom in business, all branches of manufacturing will slowly and surely pick up and the summer promises to be one of profit to both employers and employes.

The Lake Shore Railroad company, which has some $150,000 worth of patterns on hand, is erecting an immense building at Elkhart, Ind., in which to store them. The building will be fireproof, and have 20,000 square feet of shelving.

H. R. Dering, of Indianapolis, assistant general passenger and ticket agent of the Pan Handle, has been offered the post made vacant on the Baltimore and Ohio, by the promotion of Charley Schull, at a salary of $3,600 a year, but declined, and will remain with the Pennsylvania people.

John H. Patrick, a brakeman on the Nickel Plate road, was engaged yesterday in making a coupling at Linden, ten miles east of Fostoria, Ohio, when his right foot caught in a cattle guard and was cut off by the wheels of a car, which was backed upon him. The injured man was taken to his home at Bellevue.

Thos. B. Toomey, the veteran soldier of the late war and for a number of years an employe at the Bass works, will go to Ligonier to-morrow to attend the reunion of the Thirtieth Indiana regiment. Mr. Toomey was a member of Captain Lawton's company and was one of the first to be welcomed by the captain during his recent visit in this city.

Mr. C. L. Lockwood, the general passenger agent of the Grand Rapids and Indiana road, was in the city yesterday in his private car. He was accompanied by a number of other officials of the road, and with Supt. P. S. O'Rourke, left during the afternoon for Rome City, where the company is engaged in making improvements for the coming summer season.

Several important changes in the official roster of the Pulman company take effect to-day. E. A. Jewett is appointed assistant general superintendent; C. A. Garcelon, superintendent Chicago division; D. H. Martyn, superintendent St, Louis division; E. N. Leamaster, district superintendent, St. Louis, Mo.; W. H. Dickinson, district superintendent, Kansas City, Mo.; J. F. Richardson, district superintendent, Galveston, Tex.

Messrs. W. Tourgee and A. Johnson, inspectors of locomotives in the Pittsburg shops, took a repaired engine out of the works last evening for trial. Every new or repaired engine, the work of which is done in the shops here, is first tested by them before it is turned over to the company for use. They usually make a run out of the city of five or six miles and return and afterwards accompany the engine on its first trip. They are expert machinists and there in nothing about an engine that they do not understand thoroughly.

CHARLEY BUTLER.

A Son of the Notorious Wife Murderer Falls Heir to $40,000 in Kansas.

The readers of THE SENTINEL will recall the notorious Charley Butler, who was confined in the jail at this city, and was afterward hung at Columbia City for the brutal murder of his wife at Pierceton. The following dispatch, giving an account of his son falling heir to $40,000 will interest:

CORNADO, Kan., April 6.—The appearance of Deputy United States Marshal Currine, of Leavenworth, on our streets last Saturday excited some wonder and many were the speculations as to his probable business. Marshal Currine's business in Wichita county, was to serve a writ of habeas corpus upon Wm. Sheehan; the petition alleging that he was unlawfully restraining the body of his nephew, Harry Butler. The writ commanded him to give the body up before Judge Foster, of Topeka. Marshal Currine did not find Mr. Sheehan at home, and consequently he did not serve his writ.

This is one of the closing chapters of a terrible tragedy which horrified the whole country a few years ago. Harry Butler's mother, a sister of the Sheehan brothers, was murdered by her husband in Pierceton Ind. Butler was a son of the wealthy Dr. Butler, of Columbus, Ohio, whose wife had been compelled to leave him on account of his cruel treatment. She went to Pierceton, Ind., whither her husband followed and there murdered her.

Butler was captured, tried, convicted and executed at Columbia City, Ind. The trial created at that time great interest throughout the country. He was defended by celebrated counsel, Congressman Converse, of Ohio, and Judge Powell, late democratic candidate for governor of tue same state. But all their eloquence and influence did not avail to clear their client, and justice was meted out to him on the gallows.

Harry Butler, who resides with his uncle, Wm. Sheehan, is the only child of this unhappy family. He is now the possessor of some $40,000 inherited from his grandmother Butler, and one of the heirs of his grandfather, who is very wealthy. The Butler family are very anxious to get possession of the boy, who is an unusually bright child; but have failed thus far. It is probable they will not let the matter drop without more strenuous efforts.

IT BLEW HARD.

The Storm and Flood Very Severe South of Us.

Train men on the Muncie road report the storm of last evening very severe south of us.

At Hartford City, a half dozen houses were unroofed and then a terrible rain fall followed, drenching the unprotected houses and doing great damage.

All along the Muncie route the storm and floods were fierce and forcible.

The LaGrange Democrat says: "Hon. P. S. O'Rourke was a guest at the Democrat office on Wednesday evening."

Prof. Reineke's full orchestra will accompany the grand chorus of 200 voices at the Temple on the 12th and 13th.

Jake Sharp Dead.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Jacob Sharp died at 9:20 o'clock last night. About 6 o'clock he was seized with a coughing spell and though it subsided somewhat, rallied but lay in a state of coma, dying about 9:20 without having recovered consciousness. The members of his family were at his bedside. His death was a result of a complication of heart disease, affection of the kidneys, bronchitis, and a worry over the legal troubles which hung over him. It was understood that he was soon to be tried the second time on the charge of bribery of members of the board of aldermen of 1884, to grant him a charter for the street railway in lower Broadway.

Run Down and Killed.

ELKHART, April 6.—J. H. Davis, a well-known citizen of Goshen, Ind., was instantly killed here yesterday afternoon by being run over while walking on the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern track. He was struck by a car that had been thrown off from the train while being switched. As it ran very noiselessly, he did not hear its approach. He was badly mangled.

Blaine's Health.

PITTSBURG, April 6.—Mr. James W. Drape, of this city, is in receipt of a letter from a prominent citizen of Pittsburg, now in Vienna, a wide awake politician, in which this passage occurs: "I saw Mr. Blaine quite often at Florence. It is evident that he is greatly broken in health. He looks every day of seventy years and yet he is only fifty-eight."

Death in a Well.

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, April 6.—A day or two ago a son of Frank Dent died suddenly under circumstances which indicated arsenical poisoning. Yesterday two more of Dent's children died, and it has been discovered that they were poisoned by drinking water from an old well into which rats, poisoned with arsenic, had been thrown.

Logan Arrested.

CLEVELAND, April 6.—John A. Logan, son of the late senator, who shot a rioting Italian at the Carbon, Pa., limestone quarry, of which he was superintendent, on last Tuesday, was arrested and taken before a magistrate at New Castle, Pa. He gave bail for his appearance.

Big Failure in Detroit.

DETROIT, April 7.—Root, Strong & Co., wholesale dry goods merchants, at 234 Jefferson avenue, assigned yesterday. Liabilities unknown; assets, it is thought, about $700,000.

They Won't Prosecute.

CLEVELAND, April 6—Treasurer Dickson, of Marion county, Ohio, who was recently arrested for embezzlement, but not prosecuted, has resigned his office.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 6—Indiana, fair weather, cooler Saturday morning, followed by rising temperature.

THE FREE LIST.

A Published Report of the Articles Which are Placed Upon the Canadian Free List.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 6.—The following is a complete list of the articles to be placed on the coalition free list, and the articles to be placed on the Canadian free list, by a proclamation in the next official Gazette:

Green fruits, viz: Bananas, olives, pineapples, plantains, tamarinds, apples, blackberries, gooseberries, raspberries, strawberries, cherries, cranberries, peaches, plums, quinces, apricots and all fruit, mangoes and melons. Seeds, viz: Anise, star canary, caraway, coriander (crude), cardamom (crude), cinnamon (crude), fenugreek (crude), fennel (crude), jute, mustard (brown and white), sugar beet seeds of fruit trees and sejagous plants, trees and shrubs, viz, apple, peach, pear, plum, cherry, quince and all other fruit trees, gooseberry, raspberries, blackberry, currant and rose bushes, grape vines, shade, lawn and ornamental trees, shrubs and plants.

FIRE AT BLUFFTON.

The Little City Suffers a Loss of $1,000 Early This Morning.

Special to The Sentinel.

BLUFFTON, April 6.—Our city was visited by a fire this morning at 2 o'clock. Loss about $6,000; insurance $1,000.

The losses are as follows:

C. C. Dean, saloon building, $1,500.

C. C. Dean, liquor and fixtures, $1,500.

E. C. Aukerman, groceries, $2,000.

James Davis, building, $500.

Mrs. N. Schlesinger, of Fort Wayne, building, $250.

C. Cultwasser, meat shop, $200.

The only insurance was $1,000, carried by E. C. Aukerman.

At the time a strong wind was blowing, but by the use of our city water works, which worked to the fullest expectation of every one, $10,000 was saved. The whole square was covered by frame buildings, but the blaze was confined to Market street, opposite the Central hotel.

MURDER TRIALS.

Two of them Called for Hearing at Huntington.

Special to the Sentinel.

HUNTINGTON, Ind., April 6.—Charles Pfeifer pleaded not guilty to the charge of murdering Mr. Mouse, in the Silver Moon saloon, and the trial was set for next Tuesday.

In the case of Jacob Kahlenbeck, also charged with murdering a peddler, he pleaded not guilty, and his trial was set to come up after the Pfeifer case is disposed of. There will be eighty-seven witnesses in the case, eighty-three of them having been found by the sheriff.

ARGUING BLINKY'S CASE.

The Court Reserves Its Decision Until Due Deliberation is Made.

RAVENNA, Ohio, April 6.—E. G. Johnson, of Elyria, on behalf of the defense, closed the arguments in the hearing of a motion for a new trial in Blinky Morgan's case before the circuit court, and the Robinson case was taken up immediately afterward, the arguments being opened by W. S. Anderson, of Youngstown, on behalf of Robinson, followed by J. T. Siddall and E. W. Mason on the part of the state, and closed by Thos. Marshall, of Pittsburg.

Almost the same grounds were set forth by the defense as in Morgan's case. They claimed error on the part of the court in admitting the fur robbery testimony on the grounds that the state had no right to prove another crime foreign to the murder testimony; that the court erred in allowing the state to cross-examine their witnesses in the manner they did as regards their character; further, that the verdict was not sustained by the evidence. The decision is looked for to-day. A new trial is probable.

GOLDEN CALIFORNIA.

New and Rich Gold Discoveries Are Made on the Pacific Coast.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 6—The reports of rich gold discoveries in lower California have created much excitement in this city and prospecting parties have been fitted out and gone to the scene. The San Diego Union has ascertained the fact that a number of experts have been in the lower California gold fields and have brought back to their employers reports of rich discoveries.

The Hatfield Prisoners.

LOUISVILLE, April 6—Judge Jackson, in the United States court this morning, affirmed the decision of the lower court in the West Virginia habeas corpus case against the state of Kentucky for the possession of the Hatfield prisoners.

OUR LAW MAKERS.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The senate took up the bond purchase bill late yesterday afternoon. Mr. McPherson withdrew the amendment which he offered, and then, without a word of discussion, the substitute, with the Beck amendment, was passed and a committee of conference ordered.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The committee of conference on the bond bill is Messrs. Sherman, Allison and Beck. The following is the text of the bill as passed: That section 2 of the act making appropriations for sundry civil expenses of the government for the year ending June 30, 1882, and for other purposes, which is as follows: "That the secretary of the treasury may at any time apply surplus money in the treasury, not otherwise appropriated, or so much thereof as he may consider proper, to the purchase or redemption of United States bonds, provided the bonds so purchased or redeemed shall constitute no part of the sinking fund, but shall be cancelled," was intended to be a permanent provision of the law and the same is hereby declared to have been since its enactment and to be in full force and effect now.

Section 2.—That whenever the circulation or any part thereof, of any National bank not in liquidation shall be surrendered by the deposit of United States notes in the treasury or otherwise, and the same or an equivalent amount not taken by other National banks, within thirty days thereafter, the secretary of the treasury is hereby authorized to purchase at the market price thereof an equivalent amount in silver bullion in excess of the minimum of $2,000,000 worth per month for coinage purposes, which shall be coined and used as provided in the act passed February 28, 1878, and entitled: An act authorizing the coinage of the standard silver dollar and to restore its legal tender character, provided, that nothing in this act shall alter or repeal said act of February 28, 1878.

The house entered upon the fourth day of its contest over the direct tax bill, the legislative day of Wednesday still continuing. No progress toward an agreement was made.

The situation in the house remains unchanged. The present prospects of breaking the deadlock is not very good. It is threatened that the house will be kept in a continuous session, without recesses being taken, until the question is settled, either by compromise or by one party unconditionally surrendering its position.

The president today approved the act granting a pension to Mary S. Logan, the widow of General Logan, and an act to increase the pension of Mrs. Appoline A. Blair.

Senator Daniels to-day introduced a bill to repeal section 1,218 of the revised statutes, which provided that "no person who has served in any capacity in the military, naval or civil service of the so-called confederate states, or of either of the states in the insurrection during the late rebellion, shall be appointed to any position in the army of the United States."

The president sent the following nominations to the senate to-day: Brigadier General George Crook, to be major general, Col. John B. Brooke, of the third infantry to be brigadier general.

The president has signed the Buffalo postoffice site bill.

BY PRAYER AND FAITH.

A Woman Cured After Having Been Bedridden for Seven Years.

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., April 6.—Mrs. Stephen Cassiday, a lady living in this city, has been confined to her bed for seven years, and for several weeks she has been so ill as to give cause for grave fears as to her life being prolonged to any great extent.

One evening, recently, as a church bell was pealing out, calling the devout to worship, Mrs. Cassiday had a presentiment that her son Will, a young man, was about to arrive home. When she heard the latch of the front gate raised, she says she heard these words: "Mrs. Cassiday, arise and walk," and she arose from her bed for the first time in seven years. She met her son at the front door and embraced him, exclaiming: "I never felt better in my life; I am restored."

Mrs. Cassiday has long believed that she would ultimately be restored to her former health, and her prayers have been constantly petitioning for that favor during the years of her illness and it seems that now they have been answered.

Scores of people are daily visiting the house of the healed woman, and they unite in pronouncing it wonderful indeed.

SIX MEN BADLY BURNED.

NEW YORK, April 6.—A cataract of molten iron overwhelmed a gang of workmen in the Delamater iron works, yesterday. Six men, alight from head to foot, were plucked out of the fiery pit into which the metal was poured. All were terribly injured, some so seriously that their chances of recovery hang on a thread.

A BAD TORNADO

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, April 6.—During a violent electric storm yesterday a tornado passed over this city from the southwest to northeast. It struck but in one place, in the extreme northwest part of the city, and then rebounded in the air, passing rapidly over the western suburbs. At the place where the cloud struck it blew up the residence of Mark Modlin, and buried it to the ground in the rear of the lot.

Mrs. Modlin was severely injured. The house of Mr. Richmond was wrecked and a barn near by was split to kindling wood.

At Silvery the tornado swept over the country, doing immense damage to property.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 6.—A dispatch from St. Paul, Minn., says: Telegrams from a dozen points in Dakota report heavy rains and raging rivers. The river bank at Washburn is full and still rising, and the cotton lands below are flooded for miles.

CENTREVILLE, Mich., April 6—During the storm yesterday James Parson's barn, in Sherman township, was struck by lightning and totally destroyed. Mr. Parsons, his little child and Mrs. Yankee were instantly killed at the same time.

DELPHI, Ind., April 6.—A terrific wind and rain storm passed over this place late yesterday afternoon. At Sleeths, five miles north, it partook of the nature of a cyclone. Several houses were blown down and a freight train on the Monon line was lifted from the track. No one was injured as far as reported.

IN WOMAN'S HANDS.

The Town of Oskaloosa, Kansas, Places Its Destinies in the Keeping of Female Officials.

OSKALOOSA, Kan., April 6.—The good ladies of this city, who consented to take the reins of city government into their hands and try to improve upon the ways of their lords and masters, have leaped suddenly and unexpectedly into fame. Mary D. Lowman is the wife of the register of deeds and is the mother of two children, and is at present the efficient assistant in the office of the register of deeds.

Hannah A. Moore is the wife of one of the city's most prominent attorneys. Sarah E. Baisley is the wife of Dr. J. W. Baisley, a leading physician. Mrs. Carrie Johnson's husband is cashier in the Oskaloosa bank. Mrs. Mittie Golden is the wife of an expert mechanic and the mother of two bright little girls.

The four first-named are handsome, matronly ladies of middle age or past, and the last two are younger in years and girlish in form and feature. They are all highly intelligent and universally esteemed ladies, and have the confidence of the community in their ability to successfully manage the city's affairs. They were given a serenade by the band after the vote was counted showing their overwhelming victory, and there is a general disposition to show them every encouragement.

DROWNED.

Father and Son Drowned While Crossing a River.

PORT HURON, April 6.—Last night Mr. Mathison and his sixteen-year-old son, of Oil Springs, Ont., started to cross the river here to Sarnia in a row boat. When about half way across, a sudden squall drove the boat against a cake of ice and the craft capsized. They were drowned.

A Warsaw Enterprise.

Special to the Sentinel:

WARSAW, April 6.—The Warsaw Light, Fuel and Power company was incorporated yesterday. It has a capital of $20,000, and the directors are J. B. Kuts, J. F. Beyer, J. E. Beyer and Irvin B. Webber.

Economic Governmental Stroke.

ERIE, Penn., April 6.—Orders from the treasury department have greatly reduced the expenses of collecting the customs at this port. The salary of the deputy collector has been reduced from $1,600 to $1,200. The force of customs inspectors was also reduced from three to one the year around.

A Fort Wayne Passenger Train Stoned.

LIMA, O., April 6.—A passenger train, Thursday night, on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago road, was stoned and fired at by a mob of unknown persons some distance west of this city.

There were several cars containing men from the Reading road, en route to Chicago, and it is thought the assault was intended for them. Several were injured, but none seriously. A bullet narrowly missed Conductor Gray's head.

Sent to Prison.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Recorder Smyth to-day sentenced Francis W. Pittman to imprisonment for life in the state prison. He was tried for the murder of his daughter, Rachel, and was convicted last night of murder in the second degree.

THE SHOE MAKERS.

CINCINNATI, April 6.—Eleven of the leading shoe manufacturing firms here, have issued a circular declaring their shops free, and that they will keep them so, making no discrimination on account of any one who is a member of the Knights of Labor, but that they will protect all their employes against intimidation.

They say that, until it is proved that labor assemblies will respect the laws of their own order and any agreement they may have entered into, and until their authorities are able to enforce promptly such agreements, it is useless and unbusiness-like to enter into any stipulated agreement with labor organizations.

NO TROUBLE EXPECTED.

The Troubles Between the American and Moorish Governments Will Be Settled Peacefully.

LONDON, April 6.—A dispatch from Tangiers says everything remains quiet generally and a satisfactory settlement of the differences between the American and Moorish governments will be effected.

BISMARCK TO RETIRE.

BERLIN, April 6.—The Cologne Gazette publishes the following: "Great excitement prevails in diplomatic circles in Berlin over the possibility of the speedy resignation of Prince Bismarck because of the proposed marriage of Prince Alexander of Battenberg and Princess Victoria of Prussia. Prince Alexander wishes to accompany Queen Victoria to Berlin as a suitor for the hand of the princess. The bearing of the reports is so serious that they can not be passed over."

Explosion of Dynamite.

VALPARAISO, Ind., April 6.—Four men were killed by a dynamite explosion, this morning, at Miller's Station. The shock shook the buildings in Valparaiso.

A Victim of Misrepresentation.

Special to The Sentinel.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., April 6.—W. C. R. Harrison, of Hicksville, O., who recently bought the Daily Public Spirit, came here to take possession, but says he was the victim of misrepresentation. He found the office plastered with encumbrances and refused to have anything to do with it. He will start another daily paper here shortly.

Hydrophobia From a Cat Bite.

Special to The Sentinel:

LOGANSPORT, Ind., April 6.—Mrs. Smith, an aged and respected German lady, was bitten by a vicious cat recently. On the ninth day Mrs. Smith began to develop strong symptoms of hydrophobia. Physicians are now doing all they can do to relieve her sufferings. The worst results are feared.

Mrs. Hugh McCulloch's Reception.

The Washington telegrams say: "Mrs. McCulloch and Miss Mary McCulloch, wife and daughter of ex-Secretary McCulloch, had a charming reception yesterday afternoon. They were assisted by Mrs. McCulloch's niece, Mrs. Talbott, of Lafayette, who arrived a few days ago. Mrs. McCulloch wore a dolly varden dress of pale flowered silk and a cap that was made for her golden wedding breakfast anniversary. Miss McCulloch, in a Greek dress of white cloth, served tea in a second drawing-room that was lighted by a pink-shaded fairy lamp.

Henry Miller's Money.

The Monroeville Breeze says:

This morning as Henry Miller returned home from Fort Wayne, he informed us that as he was walking along Calhoun street in that city, he was struck upon the head with a brick which felled him to the stone pavement and in an instant two men were upon his back and robbed him of $305 and made well their escape before he could regain consciousness. Miller went to the city yesterday intending to return in the evening but missed the train. The money taken belonged to W. H. Smith.

An Alleged Murderer Held.

John Patterson is the name given by the man arrested by Officer Limecoolcy on suspicion that he was one of the murderers of the night watchman on the Chicago and Alton road, at Chicago.

The fellow could not give an account of himself, so the mayor sent him to jail on a charge of vagrancy.

Telegrams are passing back and forth about the prisoner, and some of the officers feel that he does not answer the description.

Endorsed the Ticket.

NEW ORLEANS, April 6.—The republicans of New Orleans to-day endorsed the city ticket nominated by the Young Men's Democratic association.

Conkling Very Ill.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Ex-Senator Roscoe Conkling is seriously ill with an abscess in his ear.

DIED AT HIS POST.

ELMIRA, N. Y., April 6.—An engine of a passenger train on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railway went off the track fifty-five miles east of Buffalo about midnight. Fireman Hoyt Bogart, of Elmira, was killed and Engineer Thompson, of Elmira, badly hurt. The cars did not leave the track and no passengers were injured. It was caused by a washout of a culvert.

THE LUTHERANS.

The Conference in This City Closes—The Synod of the Church, at Evansville, in July.

The conference of the Lutheran ministers and teachers for the Fort Wayne district, which has been in session at the Emanuel's Lutheran church, for the last few days, adjourned last evening and most of those attending it have left for their homes. The session was an interesting and important one, and many matters pertaining to the interests of the denomination were discussed and decided.

There were over 150 delegates in attendance. They were the guests, during the session, of the families of the Lutheran congregations in the city. The visiting members speak highly of the manner in which they were entertained and will carry with them many pleasant recollections of their 1888 session.

Rev. JOX, of Logansport, presided over the body and at the last evening session, Rev. Berg, of Adams county, preached an able and eloquent sermon, which was followed by profitable communion services. The next meeting of the conference will be held at Evansville some time in October.

The annual synod of the Lutheran church for Ohio and Indiana will meet at Evansville next July. It will be an important gathering of the church and will be attended by all the Lutheran ministers of this city with one or two lay delegates from each congregation.

Wrong

To imagine that the treatment of Constipation consists merely in unloading the bowels. The medicine must not only act as a purgative, but be a tonic as well, and not produce after its use greater costiveness. This is what Simmons Liver Regulator always does.

"As a general family remedy for Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels."—W. J. McELROY, Macon, Ga.

Believe us, when we tell you that most of the despondent feeling (the blues) is the effect of a Torpid Liver, Indigestion, Weakness of Stomach, and Nervousness. A dose of Simmons Liver Regulator invariably relieves, cures and prevents a re-occurrence.

"I find Simmons Liver Regulator, very safe, harmless and valuable as a family medicine, and have used it for any disorder of the system and have found it to act like a charm, and I believe that if it was used in time, it would prove a great preventive of sickness. I have often recommended it to my friends, and shall continue to do so."—Rev. JAMES M. HOLLINS, Fairfield, Va.

Simmons Liver Regulator is given with safety and with the happiest results, in almost any ailment, to the most delicate infant as well as to the adult. For all diseases in which a laxative, alterative, or purgative is needed, it will give the most perfect satisfaction. It is the cheapest, purest and best Family Medicine in the world.

FRIDAY, APRIL 6, 1888.

CHEAP gas and cheap water we must and will have.

JUDGE GRESHAM is a mugwump and a free trader, so says the Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette.

KENDALLVILLE went democratic last Monday. The old strongholds are wheeling into line for November grandly.

HON. BENJ. S. PARKER, of New Castle, is engaged on a new work, to be called "The Poets and Poetry of Indiana."

THE township election figures from the state show that the democrats carried Indiana on a popular vote by from 7,000 to 10,000 majority.

MR. P. L. BECKER, of North Manchester, is the prohibition nominee for congress in the adjoining Eleventh district. Mr. Becker was formerly a republican.

THE minority republican report on the Mills tariff bill is a commonplace campaign document and it surprises us that such an ordinary paper should emanate from such an extraordinary source.

IF the citizens of Fort Wayne—those who are compelled to pay exorbitant prices for illuminating gas—would counsel together and organize a stock company of their own, it is possible we could get gas at almost the cost of its manufacture.

The Indianian, the republican organ of Kosciusko county, instructs its correspondents not to report prohibition meetings, or any matters connected with that party. The republicans are evidently determined to crush out this commendable struggle for sobriety and wholesome temperance reforms, but they cannot do it.

THE election for ten councilmen and a member of the board of water works trustees occurs on the first Tuesday in May. The city council can order the polls open at 6 o'clock in the morning, to accommodate the working classes, if it chooses to do so. It would not be a bad idea, because when the polls open at 7 o'clock and close at 6 o'clock a great many shop employes are denied an opportunity to vote.

THE Gazette copies an item from the Dispatch asserting that THE SENTINEL and Journal opposed Mr. Hilbrecht for trustee because of his foreign birth. As far as the statement applies to THE SENTINEL it is maliciously false. This paper, all through the brief campaign, argued in unmistakable terms against the introduction of race and creed prejudices into politics. Our columns are open to inspection, for we abhor such influences in any party as much as we do the people who falsely ascribe such motives to us.

THE Indianapolis Sentinel has forced Judge Woods and District Attorney Sellers to call for trial the case of General Carnahan, the chairman of the Marion county republican committee. It will be seen that the Sentinel is instilling a commendable spirit of activity and honesty into federal affairs, since republicans are to be tried for election frauds and illegal practices, just as Coy and Bernhamer were. Let us pause and see whether the prosecution will be as vigorous—whether Judge Woods will yearn for conviction as he did in the case of the spring democrats.

MRS. SUE DYER, of Dexter, Me., for several years was troubled with sensations in her stomach, and sometimes in her throat. She became convinced that she had some sort of a living creature in her stomach, and induced a physician to give her medicine to destroy it. A local newspaper says that after she took the medicine the movements of the creature became so violent that they threw her into convulsions that lasted several hours. A few days afterward she was relieved of a snake twenty-one inches long. It is feared that Mrs. Dyer will not recover.

AN Englishman, John Powell, recently had remarkable success at tiger shooting in India. A buffalo had been killed by a tiger and he had a "machan" tied up near it. In this he posted himself. Shortly out stalked a fine full-grown tiger from the adjoining jungle, and commenced to devour the dead buffalo. He fired a shot which hit it in the shoulder and rolled it over dead. He had scarcely reloaded the discharged barrel when out came another. At this he fired four shots before he gave it its quietus. This animal had hardly given up moving its body in its final death-throes when an enormous tigress put in an appearance. One well-aimed shot struck her close to the eye and rolled her over dead.

"WHO FOR CONGRESS?"

The Kendallville News Wants a Man Who Can Carry Allen County As of Old.

The Kendallville News, Dr. A. S. Parker's paper, has this very sensible congressional gossip:

Who for congress? begins to become a question of some importance to the democratic voters of this district. This question will have to be settled by them within two or three months. There seems to be a disposition on the part of all democrats, so far as we can see, to throw aside all differences and abandon all prejudice that was engendered in the campaign of 1886, and nominate a good man and elect him. This feeling should be encouraged, and the man nominated should receive the party vote. With the party a unit for the candidate, then it will be in a position to become aggressive and extend its influence. Three candidates so far have come to the front and desire the nomination; two from Allen county, Robert C. Bell and P. S. O'Rourke, and one from Whitley, Wm. F. McNagny. There will probably be other candidates before the convention, but to us the important question is, who can carry the democratic vote of Allen county? Who can roll up the old time majority of that county? This question, to some extent must be settled by the Allen county democracy, and if it is R. C. Bell, all right; if it is P. S. O'Rourke, or any other man, all right.

NEW OFFICERS

Yesterday, at Richmond, occurred the annual meeting of the stock-holders of the Cincinnati, Richmond and Fort Wayne road, which is the southern terminus of the Grand Rapids line and with it is operated from Fort Wayne by the Pennsylvania company.

The officers chosen are as follows:

Directors—Wm. Parry, Asahel Stone, Thomas Meseler, John F. Miller, John H. Moorman, David Stadiabaker, Jacob N. McCullough, F. H. Short, Wm. O. Hughart, Wm. R. Shelby, Wm. Thew.

The directors met and organized their board by the election of the following officers:

Wm. Parry, president.
W. O. Hughart, vice-president.
J. H. P. Hughart, secretary and treasurer.

Judge McClellan Named for Congress.

[Angola Herald.]

The democracy of DeKalb county will present and unanimously support Judge Charles A. O. McClellan as their candidate for congress, subject to the choice of the democratic convention of the Twelfth congressional district. The judge who was not conspicuous in the fight of two years ago, would undoubtedly be acceptable to all factions and if nominated would unite these elements in his own county and district, and if elected would make an able and efficient representative in Congress.

A Drive at Chairman Wilson.

Steuben Republican.

In the coming republican national convention it is pretty well claimed here that the delegates from this district should go to Lagrange and Whitley counties. Allen had the chairman in 1880, delegate in 1884, and congressman in 1886; Whitley, none; Lagrange, none; Noble, delegate in 1880 and chairman in 1883; DeKalb, delegate in 1880, chairman in 1884. Though in 1880 Whitley had a delegate-at-large, Judge Calkins. Fair play is a jewel, so pass around the honors.

Falsehoods Against Prohibitionists.

[Bluffton Bugle.]

The Indianapolis Journal lately started the story that "the chairman of the prohibition state central committee accepted a nomination to preside at a republican convention." This has been hailed with acclaim and republished by all lesser papers of that faith, including the Fort Wayne Gazette and Bluffton Chronicle.

A Case in Point.

Cleveland Universe.

In connection with Judge Elliott's decision in the cemetery case, "John Geary vs. the Rt. Rev. Joseph Dwenger, D. D., Bishop of Fort Wayne," it is interesting to notice a recent judgment which we find in current European exchanges, where the "court of justice of Guestrow, a city of Mecklenburg," has just fined the burgomaster for forcing a Lutheran parson to bury two suicides in the Lutheran cemetery.

Bunyan's First Defeat.

The Kendallville News remarks:

State Central Committeeman William Bunyan, received his first defeat for 1888 at the election last Monday. It is the beginning of a campaign that will end in giving Grover Cleveland and the whole democratic ticket a majority in Wayne township next November.

Hon. Charles McCulloch for National Delegate.

[Kendallville News.]

The Fort Wayne SENTINEL presents the name of Hon. Charles McCulloch, of that city, as a delegate to the National convention at St. Louis, and thinks his selection would be a just tribute to Mr. McCulloch, and would voice the sentiment of the democrats of that county.

Advice to Mothers.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. The Pica of the Postal Clerks.

The bill which Congressman S. S. Cox introduced in the house to increase the salaries of the United States postal clerks is meeting with general favor, and such a strong showing has been made in behalf of the clerks that it is more than probable that the bill will pass.

It is to be hoped that it will, for of all the government employes none are poorer paid in comparison with the responsibilities which they are called upon to bear than the postal clerks, whose salaries now range from $800 to $1,800 per annum. The position which a postal clerk holds is a most responsible one, and only thorough, competent and well equipped men are capable of performing the duties of the office as is necessary to give the public an accurate and efficient mail service. Every piece of mail matter handled in the United States, except those which are distributed in the cities in which they are mailed, goes through the hands of the postal clerks, of which there were, at the close of the fiscal year of 1885, 4,512 in the whole country. These clerks handled 4,964,673,577 pieces during that year, and this mail was carried over 191,693 miles of road. This was nearly three years ago, and there has been a very great increase since then in the work which these clerks are called upon to perform. The average annual run for each clerk was 40,167 miles, or an average of 110 miles for every day in the year. For this the compensation averages only about $1,000 annually, and out of this the clerks are compelled to pay their own expenses.

The postoffice department has frequently recommended to congress an increase in these salaries, but a combination of circumstances has prevented the increase being made before this. The inadequacy of this compensation has been very strongly impressed on the present congress, and from all parts of the country the postal clerks have brought strongest indorsements of the justice of their request for an increase.

Of all public servants there are none brought more directly in contact with the public than the postal clerks, and on the faithful performance of their work business and society depends largely for the methods which guarantee reliable intercourse. Day after day they are engaged in work which carries them from one place to another, subjected to inconveniences and discomforts which are borne by but few others in the service of the government, and yet they are the poorest paid and the hardest worked class of its employes.

These men have proven themselves worthy of public confidence, and it is an extremely rare thing that any in this department of the government's mail service are found guilty of improper use of the mails. Nearly a thousand persons were tried in the United States courts last year for offenses against the mails, and of that number only eight were postal clerks. Millions and millions of dollars pass through their hands annually, and the honesty and competency of their work is attested in the fact that of the complaints against the mail service, fewer are made against them than any others who handle the mails, and yet the great bulk of the work passes through the hands of the railway postal clerks.—Atlanta Constitution.

Among the Arizona Indians.

While the Apache Indians of Arizona are probably today the most dangerous of the nation's wards who still indulge in periodical outbreaks of active hostility, their neighbors, the Mariocopas, Pimas, Yumas and Mohaves, dwelling on the banks of the Gila and Colorado rivers, set a good example of friendliness and semi-civilization. Their occupations are chiefly agriculture and stock raising. They also manufacture rude pottery similar to that found in the ancient, deserted pueblos of the Gila valley and the Colorado plateau. South of the Gila, the greater portion of the country, outside of the fertile bottom lands, is a sterile desert, where the mesquite tree and the cactus alone flourish, and the only living creatures are vultures, jackals, rattlesnakes, centipedes and a venomous lizard. It was only in 1853 that this section south of the Gila was acquired by the United States from Mexico; and reminiscences of many customs and superstitions, probably of Aztec origin, are common to most of the tribes of this part of the country.—Frank Leslie's.

"Sure it would fade! Oh, you—you—why didn't you tell me so instead of taking my money and letting me pay out $30 to have a dress made out of material that made me look like a zebra the first time I got caught in the rain, say?"

"My dear madam, you didn't tell me you wanted the stuff for a dress. I supposed you'd taken a contract to color easter eggs for a church festival or something."—Omaha World.

Mr. Gallagher.

When the Niagara street car slackened up at Carolina to let a young man off, the passengers heard his parting remark to the conductor, "Let 'er go Gallagher." The conductor pulled the strap and the car sped on its way. After a journey to the front platform to collect a fare the conductor felt the old lady passenger's hand on his arm. "What is it?" he asked, and the passengers listened as passengers will. "Please let me out at Maryland street, Mr. Gallagher," said the old lady sweetly, and the passengers roared.—Buffalo (N. Y.) Courier.

The treatment of many thousands of cases of those chronic weaknesses and distressing ailments peculiar to females, at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has afforded a vast experience in wisely adapting and thoroughly testing remedies for the cure of woman's peculiar maladies.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the outgrowth, or result, of this great and valuable experience. Thousands of testimonials, received from patients and from physicians who have tested it in the more aggravated and obstinate cases which had baffled their skill, prove it to be the most wonderful remedy ever devised for the relief and cure of suffering women. It is not recommended as a "cure-all," but as a most perfect Specific for woman's peculiar ailments.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system, and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, exhaustion, prostration, hysteria, spasms and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womb. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a legitimate medicine, carefully compounded by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. It is purely vegetable in its composition and perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system. For morning sickness, or nausea, from whatever cause arising, weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia and kindred symptoms, its use, in small doses, will prove very beneficial.

"Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhœa, excessive flowing, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb, inflammation, pain and tenderness in ovaries, accompanied with "internal heat."

As a regulator and promoter of functional action, at that critical period of change from girlhood to womanhood, "Favorite Prescription" is a perfectly safe remedial agent, and can produce only good results. It is equally efficacious and valuable in its effects when taken for those disorders and derangements incident to that later and most critical period, known as "The Change of Life."

"Favorite Prescription," when taken in connection with the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and small laxative doses of Dr. Pierce's Purgative Pellets (Little Liver Pills), cures Liver, Kidney and Bladder diseases. Their combined use also removes blood taints, and abolishes cancerous and scrofulous humors from the system.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee, from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

Large bottles (100 doses) $1.00; or six bottles for $5.00.

A CHAPTER ON TRAMPS.

BY BOB BURDETTE.

Tramps, after all, are very much like tramps. There is a certain bond that ties us all together. True, he will not work, and when we are asked to take of our own flock and of our own herd to dress for the wayfaring man that has come unto us, we say with the apostle: "That if any would not work neither should he eat." And yet I do not blame him very sorely for not desiring to work. I do not work because I love to toil, and labor, and perspire, and ink my thumb. I work because I have to. I work because the ground was cursed for my family's sake, so that thorns and thistles grew up with the papyrus plant, and ink and tears came in together; and as my great grandfather, since deceased, was a tramp, and went out of Eden to sleep under the trees and eat his bread in the sweat of his face, even so have the rest of the family been "strangers and sojurners, as were all our fathers; our days on the earth are as a shadow, for here have we no continuing city, but we seek one to come." As "one star differeth from another in glory," dearly beloved, and as "all flesh is not the same flesh," so one tramp is not as all other tramps.

Sometimes the tramp cingeth, and if she be a woman tramp, so long as thy pocket-book lasteth she will not open her mouth save for $1,000 a night, carriage, and a wagon-load of bouquets. Doth she work for that money? Nay, verily; she only worketh the audience for it, even as her sister, setting under the wayside hedge to rest, worketh the cottages along the road for "broken vittles."

I have seen the man tramp come all the way from England, and tramp up and down the iron highways of this land that floweth with fame and money repeating at our charitable doors old lectures that were frayed at the edges before ever they left the shores of Britain, talking at the rate of $2 a minute. Call ye that "work," ye that lift up the hands against the unshaven tramp who seeketh only to talk you out of a cold breakfast? Verily, my kind friends, I have tramped on the lecture lay myself, and I know whereof I affirm, that is not "work;" it is fun. Anybody can do it.

Yea, I have known tramps who wandered about this land from Hoboken, N. J., to Tombstone, Arizonia, seeking for an easy pulpit in a rich church, with an assistant pastor to do all the work.

Had I listened to the noise of tramps who wandered up and down for meat, crying in the ears of the people, "Oh, that I had in the wilderness, which is called congress, a lodging-place for wayfaring men, that I might rest from my labor all the days of my life, and wax fat and kick." And when he goeth to congress, and draweth his fat salary, and commandeth his secretary to write him a speech on the tariff bill or the Mormon question, doeth he say "work?" Oh, my dear friends, the country is full of tramps, who have three changes of raiment, like Berry Wall, and fare sumptuously every day; they toil not, neither do they spin, but they rake in the shekels, and flourish as magnificently as a green bay tree. And there be few of us, indeed, who love to work, and who would work 317 days in the year unless we were driven by dire necessity.

Rallying the Enemy.

Battles are not always conducted with that extreme precision which is generally supposed to characterize military maneuvers. Confusion sometimes reigns, especially when the fighting is carried on in thick brush, or continued after dusk. Here, for instance, is an extract from the history of a New York regiment:

Maj. Livingston's horse had been shot, and the Major's hip injured by the fall. He was very anxious to change the retreat into an advance, and thus on foot, swinging his sword, he ordered everybody to "Right about face!" But his orders were unheeded.

At last, coming up to a regiment marching in tolerable order in the same direction with the general current, and concluding that they were sufficiently strong at least to cover the retreat of the wounded and exhausted, he ordered them to halt and face to the front, giving emphasis to the command by earnest gesticulations with his sword and insisting that it was a shame to see a whole regiment running away. At this juncture an officer demanded:

"Who are you, sir?"

"Maj. Livingston of the 76th."

"Seventy-sixth what?" asked the stranger.

"Seventy-sixth New York," replied the Major.

"Well, then, you are my prisoner, for you are attempting to rally the 2d Mississippi."

Don't Get Caught

This spring with your blood full of impurities, your digestion impaired, your appetite poor, kidneys and liver torpid, and whole system liable to be prostrated by disease—but get yourself into good condition, and ready for the changing and warmer weather, by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. It stands unequaled for purifying the blood, giving an appetite, and for a general spring medicine.

Baptist Missions in Russia.

Baptists are the only Protestant body which has the privilege of carrying on missions in Russia with the sanction of the Government, but they are not allowed to baptize members of the Greek Church. There are in Russia thirty-four Baptist Churches, forty-one pastors and evangelists, eighty-two Sunday-schools and 12,371 church members; 850 were baptized last year.—Public Opinion.

Energy will be almost anything, but it cannot exist if the blood is impure and moves sluggishly in the veins. There is nothing so good for cleansing the blood and imparting energy to the system as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Price $1. Six bottles, $5. Sold by druggists.

THE BRITISH HOUSE OF LORDS.

Reformation Required in the Great Legislative Body.

[Youth's Companion.]

A few weeks ago a young English peer of high rank was caught cheating in a horse race and was expelled from the race tracks controlled by the Jockey Club. He had entered a horse in a race, and in order, dishonestly, to make money, had directed his jockey not to let his horse win.

This disgraceful incident, happening to a man who, by right of birth, has the power to aid in making of English laws, has called general attention to the defects of the upper branch of Parliament—the House of Lords.

It is not, indeed, the only incident which has taken place in recent years involving a peer in personal disgrace. At the present time a peer is hiding on the continent, so as to be out of the reach of law. Instances of peers being made bankrupts have not been rare in recent years, and cases of hopeless moral depravity, on the part of noblemen, have again been made public.

In a body comprising between five and six hundred men, however, most of whom have been reared in, and are peculiarly subject to, the temptations of great wealth and luxury, it is perhaps not surprising that some should go wrong, that there should be extravagance, dissoluteness, and dishonesty on the part of weak peers.

But the House of Lords also contains a large number of able, useful and upright men. Its bench of twenty-six bishops presents many examples of intellectual talent and personal lives. The House not long ago was found to contain twenty-one peers who had served England as diplomats abroad; six who had governed large colonies; two ex-Speakers of the Lower House, two ex-Lord Chancellors, two field marshals, eight able judges, forty generals, admirals, and ex-ministers, and twenty-four who were or had been members of the Cabinet.

In political eloquence, the hereditary chamber need not fear comparison with the popularly elected Lower House. The Duke of Argyll, the Marquis of Salisbury, the Earls of Rosebery, Granville and Carnarvon are debaters who are not excelled by more than two or three of the greatest speakers in the Commons.

Many of the peers, moreover, have served in the Commons, and have either succeeded to titles empowering them to sit in the Lords, or have been created peers on account of ability or party services. Manufacturers, bankers, brewers, and other business men have been raised to seats in the Upper House; though as yet science and medicine are unrepresented in it, and the only literary man who has been made a peer solely by reason of his literary achievements is Lord Tennyson.

It is clearly seen in England, however, that the House of Lords is not thoroughly well fitted to be a powerful and practical legislative body in these days. The idea of a man becoming a legislator for life, merely by right of birth, is seen to be absurd at a period when the masses of people have come rule the empire.

Even Lord Salisbury, a high Tory and very tenacious of the privileges of his order, is in favor of making some changes in its composition. "We belong too much to one class," he says, "and the result is that, with respect to a large number of questions, we are all too much of one mind."

The reform of the House of Lords, indeed, is one of the questions in the near future in English politics, though it is not one of the questions that will probably soon be settled. Clearly as the necessity of reform is perceived, there is an immense amount of conservative inertia to be overcome before the movement can be successful.

Among the suggestions that will be considered are the creation of more life peers, in order that more general ability may be secured, and all fields of knowledge and action may be represented. Again it will be proposed that the peers as a whole shall choose a portion of their members to perform the legislative duties of their House as the Scottish and Irish peers now elect a few of their number to represent them in the House.

The new House of Lords, if it should be reformed in either of these ways, would be more in accordance with the spirit of the age than the old, and far better fitted to perform its task in the system of the English government.

The Sporting Young Man.

There is a type of young man grown up in decent society who is nothing if not a sport. The closer he can continue his resemblance to a prize-fighter the greater gentleman he appears to think himself. In Europe this type of gentility is a result of the deterioration of a high-bred race. With us it is the original brute, only slightly gilt. We are luckier than the old world, however, for we will grow out of this sort of thing in time. At present it is pretty rampant among us. A bloody set-to between a couple of Sixth Ward plugugliss in the rooms of one of these fools of fortune, and a ghasty cock fight at the house of another are among the items of imprinted fashionable news for last week, while on Monday night a third signalized his superior state by baiting cats in the back room of a west-side groggery with his bulldog till the police began hammering at the door. Tom and Jerry might find some congenial amusement in New York these days, in spite of the newness of our civilization.—Town Topics.

Simmons Liver Regulator cures malaria, biliousness, dyspepsia, headache, constipation and piles. It is most effective in starting the secretions of the liver, causing the bile to act as a purge. When thus is an excess of bile in the stomach, the Regulator is an active purge; after the removal of the bile it will regulate the bowels and impart vigor and health to the whole system.

—Yankee Blade.

Hints to Inventors.

Inventors of marked ability may tell all their lives on some grand problem in medicine or physics, with scarcely enough of this world's goods to keep body and soul together, and die just on this side of pauperism; while a sharp, shrewd fellow will, in a week, hit on some popular and commonplace thing—a hinge, a knife, a coffe pot, a window shade, a kitchen utensil or farming implement, or even a toy, which just "fills the bill"—something which everybody wanted—and accumulate a very comfortable if not an enormous fortune. All the great prizes in life undoubtedly go to men whose intellectual grasp is gigantic, but the moderate prizes are more frequently laid hold of by those who understand human wants and how to meet them. The man who refuses to consult popular taste, who thinks he knows better what the public wants than the public itself knows, will not succeed in forcing his wares into their hands. He may, and doubtless will, think them imbeciles for wanting some thing else; he will fancy himself superior to their weakness, and refuse to gratify what he regards as bad taste or want of common sense. If he does this from conviction, and because he cannot bring himself to cater to people's trivial but harmless preferences, well and good; but let him not at the same time complain that he is not successful, and that he is a persecuted and unjustly treated martyr. Let him not be disappointed at his ill luck. If a man goes fishing for trout with the wrong kind of bait let him not talk of his bad luck. If he would rather catch trout with lemon peel than to succeed in catching them with the fly, which they like the best, let him stay at home and not grumble at those who come in with a long string of fish as the result of their knowledge and skill in the art.—Boston Exchange.

A slight cold often proves the forerunner of a complaint which may be fatal. Avoid this result by taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, the best remedy for colds, coughs, and all throat and lung diseases.

Death in the Icy Waters.

How cold the dark water of Lake Superior is! One evening when we were steaming across that lake I asked the mate what was done when a man fell overboard. He coolly replied, "Nothing."

"Why?" I asked, astonished at his heartlessness.

"The water of Lake Superior is so cold that a man cannot live in it during the time it takes to stop a rapidly-moving vessel and lower a boat," he replied. Then he added: "I have sailed on this lake for twenty years. During that time I have known many men to fall off vessels. I know of one man only who escaped death. He was saved by a scratch. The others were apparently killed by the shock produced by falling into such cold water." He picked up an empty can to which a long string was attached and cast it overboard. The can skipped from the crest of one wave to that of another for an instant, then dipped and filled. The heavy-headed mate drew the full can up and handed it to me, saying: "Take a drink of that, and then you say what you think of your chances of swimming in Lake Superior for ten or fifteen minutes." I drank deeply, and it was as though liquid ice flowed down my throat.

"It is alleged," the mate said, "that this lake never gives up its dead; that to be drowned in Lake Superior is to be buried for all time. I do not know whether this is true or not, but I do know that I have never seen a corpse floating on the lake." I wonder if that is true? I doubted it, but I could find no sailor who had ever seen a dead body floating on the lake.—New York Times.

Pulp Furniture.

Furniture manufacturers have had their attention directed by enthusiasts to the pulp question. It is argued that pulp can be used as a substitute for lumber in the manufacture of furniture and other articles now made exclusively of wood. By mixing the pulp with clays, steattite, asbestos, plumbago, and mica, substances of every possible and compactness may be produced. It is estimated that only about twenty per cent. of the timber felled reaches economic uses, while if the sawmill were combined with pulping and pressing processes, all the material in trunk might be available.—Iron Trade Review.

To Assist Nature

In restoring diseased or wasted tissue is all that any medicine can do. In pulmonary affections, such as Colds, Bronchitis, and Consumption, the mucous membranes first becomes inflamed, then accumulations form in the air-cells of the lungs, followed by tubercles, and, finally, destruction of the tissue. It is plain, therefore, that, until the hacking cough is relieved, the bronchial tubes can have no opportunity to heal. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral the inflamed membrane, arrests the wasting process, and leaves no injurious results. This is why it is more highly esteemed than any other pulmonary specific.

L. D. Bixby, of Bartonsville, Vt., writes: "Four years ago I took a severe cold, which was followed by a terrible cough. I was very sick, and confined to my bed about four months. My physician finally said I was in consumption, and that he could not help me. One of my neighbors advised me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I did so, and before I had taken half a bottle was able to go out. By the time I had finished the bottle I was well, and have remained so ever since."

Alonzo P. Daggett, of Smyrna Mills, Me., writes: "Six years ago, I was a traveling salesman, and at that time was suffering with

Lung Trouble.

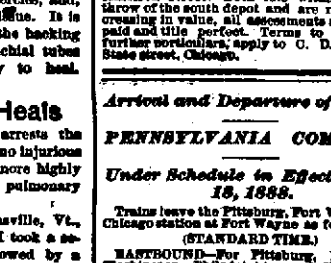

For months I was unable to rest nights. I could seldom lie down, had frequent choking spells, and was often compelled to seek the open air for relief. I was induced to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which helped me. Its continued use has entirely cured me, and, I believe, saved my life."

Incandescent Light.

The Jenney Electric Light and Power company are constructing and will soon have in operation an incandescent light system. The company will furnish light in business places without extra charge for wiring to all those who subscribe for the same before the 1st of May, 1888. The expense for electrical appliances, wiring, etc., amounts to nearly one-half a year's rental for the light. This liberal offer of furnishing all wiring free to those customers who subscribe before May 1, will hold good only until that time, after which free wiring will be discontinued. The Trades and Labor council will further consider the early closing question on next Tuesday night. It is found that groceries with saloons attached are largely opposed to early closing, and it will be found necessary to grapple with this question. It is a hard problem to solve and will require some very wise heads.

Broadway grocers are found to be the most obstinate against early closing. A few closed on the first night the agreement went into effect, but, finding the majority of grocerymen were keeping open and were taking away the trade that justly belonged to them, found it necessary for protection to themselves to keep open. The opposition shown by some grocers jeopardizes the prospects of the clerks.

AN EDITOR ASSAULTED.

Dr. J. M. Shutt, of the Maysville Breeze, Attacked in a Cowardly Way.

Dr. J. M. Shutt, edits a sprightly newspaper, the Breeze, at Maysville, this county, and intends to a good professional practice besides.

In the recent contest for trustee in that township (Springfield), Dr. Shutt espoused the cause of Mr. John Stopher, the democratic nominee, very warmly, and of course paid his respects to the republican candidate, Dr. Clarence F. Swift.

"All is fair in politics and war," argued Dr. Shutt, and he accepted the defeat of his friend, Mr. Stopher, gracefully, expecting to give Dr. Swift due recognition.

Things are not so now, however, for yesterday, while Dr. Shutt was seated in Lawyer Shaffer's office, at Maysville, Dr. Swift approached from behind and in a cowardly manner assaulted the editor of the Breeze.

"He threw his arms about my neck," said Dr. Shutt," and struck while I was helpless. When we got apart friends interfered and, of course, settled the matter for the present."

Dr. Swift at once went before a Maysville peace officer and was fined a nominal sum. This did not satisfy Dr. Shutt for he had his assailant before Justice France to-day and it cost the new trustee $19.

Dr. Shutt's face is bruised and his right eye is blackened from a blow.

MR. A. H. POLHAMUS

Returns From Chicago and Reports Everything Quiet.

Mr. A. H. Polhamus, the road foreman of engineers for the Pennsylvania company, returned last evening from Chicago, where he has been since the commencement of the strike troubles on the Pittsburg last Saturday.

He reports everything quiet in railroad circles at that city and thinks the strike has ended for good. The Burlington is handling their immense business and will undoubtedly be able to take care of their freight traffic.

The report was extensively circulated in this city that Mr. Polhamus had been attacked and roughly beaten by the strikers in Chicago, but this, we are happy to say, was not the case. He did duty as an engineer almost all of the time he was in Chicago, but was not attacked in any way by the strikers, much less beaten, as was reported in this city.

The Building Boom.

J. H. L. Gerke has been given a permit to build a two-story frame dwelling house on lot 480 Hanna's addition, to cost $900.

Frederick Merten to build a one-story frame house on lot 7, Piepebrink's addition, to cost $350.

Ph. Schmidt to build a kitchen on lot 7, Rockhill's addition, to cost $200.

Ernest Hahrwald to build a one-story frame house on lot 2, McCulloch's addition, to cost $500.

SCRAPS OF THE RAIL.

A Dull Day for News, But Our Reporter Sends Up Quite a Budget of It.

Passenger business is improving.

A new sidewalk is being built on Hanna street, near the Bass works.

Engineer Oakes, of the Pittsburg road, is seriously ill at his home on South Lafayette street.

Mr. Henry Paul, the contractor, has a force of men at work at the gravel pits along the Nickel Plate road.

The depots present a lively appearance since the Pittsburg has resumed its immense freight traffic east and west.

Supt. O. S. Hilton, of the arc department of the Fort Wayne Jenney Electric Light works, has recovered from a severe indisposition.

Veteran local ticket agents admit that for the last ten days passenger rates have been better maintained than for a like period in the last ten years.

The Grand Rapids and Indiana will erect a new passenger depot at Rome City this summer. Rome City is the best paying passenger point on the road between Fort Wayne and Grand Rapids.

Mr. Will Davis, of the Pittsburg, has been busy during the last few days superintending the moving of cars and freight out of the yards of the Pennsylvania company in this city, which had accumulated during the strike.

There is a quiet, steady work going on in the shops, and while there will not be any great boom in business, all branches of manufacturing will slowly and surely pick up and the summer promises to be one of profit to both employers and employes.

The Lake Shore Railroad company, which has some $150,000 worth of patterns on hand, is erecting an immense building at Elkhart, Ind., in which to store them. The building will be fireproof, and have 20,000 square feet of shelving.

H. B. Doring, of Indianapolis, assistant general passenger and ticket agent of the Pan Handle, has been offered the post made vacant on the Baltimore and Ohio, by the promotion of Charley Seball, at a salary of $8,000 a year, but declined, and will remain with the Pennsylvania people.

John H. Patrick, a brakeman on the Nickel Plate road, was engaged yesterday in making a coupling at Linden, ten miles east of Fostoria, Ohio, when his right foot caught in a cattle guard and was cut off by the wheels of a car, which was backed upon him. The injured man was taken to his home at Bellevue.

Thos. B. Toomey, the veteran soldier of the late war and for a number of years an employe at the Bass works, will go to Logansport to-morrow to attend the reunion of the Thirtieth Indiana regiment. Mr. Toomey was a member of Captain Lawton's company and was one of the first to be welcomed by the captain during his recent visit in this city.

Mr. C. L. Lockwood, the general passenger agent of the Grand Rapids and Indiana road, was in the city yesterday in his private car. He was accompanied by a number of other officials of the road, and with Supt. P. S. O'Rourke, left during the afternoon for Rome City, where the company is engaged in making improvements for the coming summer season.

Several important changes in the official roster of the Pulman company take effect to-day. E. A. Jewett is appointed assistant general superintendent; C. A. Garretson, superintendent Chicago division; D. H. Martin, superintendent St. Louis division; E. N. Leamaster, district superintendent, St. Louis, Mo.; W. H. Dickinson, district superintendent, Kansas City, Mo.; J. F. Richardson, district superintendent, Galveston, Tex.

Messrs. W. Tourgee and A. Johnson, inspectors of locomotives in the Pittsburg shops, took a repaired engine out of the works last evening for trial. Every new or repaired engine, the work of which is done in the shops here, is first tested by them before it is turned over to the company for use. They usually make a run out of the city of five or six miles and return and afterwards accompany the engine on its first trip. They are expert machinists and there is nothing about an engine that they do not understand thoroughly.

CHARLEY BUTLER.

A Son of the Notorious Wife Murderer Falls Heir to $40,000 in Kansas.

The readers of THE SENTINEL will recall the notorious Charley Butler, who was confined in the jail at this city, and was afterward hung at Columbia City for the brutal murder of his wife at Pierceton. The following dispatch, giving an account of his son falling heir to $40,000 will interest:

CONKADO, Kan., April 6.—The appearance of Deputy United States Marshal Ourrine, of Leavenworth, on our streets last Saturday excited some wonder and many were the speculations as to his probable business. Marshal Ourrine's business in Wichita county, was to serve a writ of habeas corpus upon Wm. Sheehan; the petition alleging that he was unlawfully restraining the body of his nephew, Harry Butler. The writ commanded him to give the body up before Judge Foster, of Topeka. Marshal Ourrive did not find Mr. Sheehan at home, and consequently he did not serve his writ.

This is one of the closing chapters of a terrible tragedy which horrified the whole country a few years ago. Harry Butler's mother, a sister of the Sheehan brothers, was murdered by her husband in Pierceton, Ind. Butler was a son of the wealthy Dr. Butler, of Columbus, Ohio, whose wife had been compelled to leave him on account of his cruel treatment. She went to Pierceton, Ind., whither her husband followed and there murdered her.

Butler was captured, tried, convicted and executed at Columbia City, Ind. The trial created at that time great interest throughout the country. He was defended by celebrated counsel, Congressman Converse, of Ohio, and Judge Powell, late democratic candidate for governor of the same state. But all their eloquence and influence did not avail to clear their client, and justice was meted out to him on the gallows.

Harry Butler, who resides with his uncle, Wm. Sheehan, is the only child of this unhappy family. He is now the possessor of some $40,000 inherited from his grandmother Butler, and one of the heirs of his grandfather, who is very wealthy. The Butler family are very anxious to get possession of the boy, who is an unusually bright child; but have failed thus far. It is probable they will not let the matter drop without more strenuous efforts.

IT BLEW HARD.

The Storm and Flood Very Severe South of Us.

Train men on the Muncie road report the storm of last evening very severe south of us.

All along the Muncie route the storm and floods were fierce and foreible.
